Bearish Efforts in Few Issues Unsettle List After Early Advance, but Most Important Shares Are Supported.

SOME INDUSTRIALS
MAKE GOOD GAINS

Weakness Continues in Grain Market—Some Business News Interpreted as of More Cheerful Character.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Share prices were inclined to balk as professional operators for the advance tried to urge them still higher in today's stock market. Bearish efforts were fairly successful in a few issues, which unseated the list and hampered the advance. After an early extension of yesterday's gains, price movements became uncertain and the most important shares were in the end well supported, however, and the list closed steady to firm.

Trading was the most active in wheat, but volume appeared only on the upside, and the market was inclined to turn dull as the day advanced. Total sales aggregated $1,000,000.

Further weakness in the grain market, together with less optimistic steel trade reviews, expected, imposed new barriers to the advance. Wheat futures lost about 1 1/2 cents a bushel, and corn sagged 1/2 cent. Reflecting weather and crop reports, cotton futures advanced slightly.

Some Industrials Advanced. Utilities and automobiles were among the firmest throughout the day, and several industrials closed at 5 points higher. Allied Chemical mounted 1/2 and closed near 100. Eastman closed up 1/2 and Bullard and Tunkin up 1/2 and 3/4. Shares closed a point or two higher including American Telephone, North American, Radio-Keith, Warner Bros., International Paper, Standard Gas, Standard and Foreign Power, Electric Power and Light, and Sears.

McKesson's Tintplate was the spot in the afternoon, rising in response to the weekly trade review, reporting large gains in business. U. S. Steel closed 1/2 higher, fluctuating over a 2-point range.

Wheat was a favorite bear target, selling off 1/2 points and closing near the bottom. The Oliver brothers and Bohn dropped to 100, the last losing 4 points. International Telephone was again the spot, losing more than 2 and closing within a fraction of the previous day's low. Kroger lost 2, reflecting half earnings of only 12 1/2 cents a share. Gillette lost nearly 1/2 point. American Shipbuilding slipped back to 100 after a profit-taking session.

Grain exchanges were largely unchanged during most of the day, closing steady. The Chicago and Kansas City wheat and corn and Spanish peseta were again firm.

News More Cheerful. Professional operators appeared determined to make the most of the cheerful tenor of business and trade news. Although the market improvement thus far is slight, and few bankers or statisticians are predicting any spectacular acceleration of business in the fall, the fact that the market seemed to have turned in the direction of bullish enthusiasm, was encouraging.

An improvement in building operations, F. W. Dodge Corporation daily average for the first three weeks of August showing a slight increase over the extremely low level of July.

Lighter car loadings for the second week of the month showed a slight increase of 2 per cent over the first week, a little more than normal seasonal advance, but total was still the lowest since 1935.

The American Federation of Laborists stated that unemployment had been cut down 2-10 per cent, from July.

NEGRO OCCUPIES
PULLMAN ON FREE

Sole Passenger in Car, Posing as Rail Official, Had Ordered It Dead-Headed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 27.—A Negro who rode to St. Louis as the sole passenger of a Pullman which he ordered attached to an Illinois Central train, made his escape last week at Union Station, St. Louis, before his deception had been discovered.

A man who is presumed to have been the same negro, called the Illinois Central office on the telephone.

"This is Assistant Superintendent Logan of the Pullman Co.," he said. "I want the 'Kecog' attached to Train 126. It will dead-head to St. Louis and a porter will go along."

The sleeper was coupled to the train. A Negro, who represented himself as the porter, got aboard, rode to St. Louis and left the train at Union Station.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT REVOKED

City Judge Borden of East St. Louis Rescinds Order on Which Prisoner Had Been Released.

A writ of habeas corpus, on which Bernie Shelton, gangster, serving a six-months' term for agrangery, was released Sunday from St. Clair County Jail at Belleville, was dismissed today by City Judge Borden of East St. Louis. BOHEMIAN CLUB
SHUT AFTER THREE SUCCESSIVE RAIDS

Chief Gerk Advised Proprietors Who Called on Him That They Would Do Well to Close.

NO CHARGE OF SALE OF LIQUOR MADE

This Is Only Night Club to Be Molested in Two Months' Campaign Conducted by Police.

Albert Reynolds and Albert Warner, proprietors of the Bohemian Club on Market street and Commercial alley, half a block from the river, called on Chief of Police Gerk yesterday to discuss the raiding of the club on three successive nights.

"I ordered police to look in whenever your place was open and to raid it if there was any violation of the law," Chief Gerk told them. "You are running your club in such a manner as to attract undesirable persons. I am going to call the attention of Federal prohibition agents to your place."

"It is the intention of the Board of Police Commissioners and the Police Department to make St. Louis a better place to live in and the sooner you close the sooner you will be out of trouble."

The Bohemian Club is the only night club to be raided since police started a campaign against liquor and gambling establishments more than two months ago. The first raid on the Bohemian Club was made Aug. 17. Last Saturday, Sunday and Monday nights the raids were repeated and frequenters were taken to headquarters.

Thirty-four men and 24 women rode in police patrol wagons early Sunday morning, most of them spending five hours in the holdover before they were released conditionally at 8 o'clock.

Police reported finding bottles of whisky and gin under tables. No charge of selling liquor has been made against the Bohemian Club proprietors.

When the sergeant looked in last night, the building was dark.

IN SALE OF $28,000
INSURANCE STOCK

Federal Warrants Issued for Charles W. Good and James P. Kent—Latter Admits Part in Scheme.

SOLD SHARES IN UNCHARTERED FIRM

Represented Concern as Holding Company for St. Louis Lloyd's, to Operate on 'Insure Anything' Plan

Warrants charging use of the mails to defraud, in connection with the sale of stock in an unincorporated insurance company, were issued today against Charles W. Good and James P. Kent.

Good, 56 years old, who formerly lived at the Lindell-Plaza Hotel, is being sought. Kent, 34, was arrested last night by Postoffice Inspector Noah, who said Kent had admitted participation in the scheme before furnishing a $7,000 bond.

Noah's investigation was based on information obtained by the Better Business Bureau.

According to Inspector Noah, the two men, with offices in the Missouri Hotel Building, obtained about $28,000 in securities and cash from men and women in payment for shares of the St. Louis Underwriters, Inc., representing the company as a holding company for the St. Louis Lloyd's, which was to be organized under the "insure anything" plan.

Shares of stock delivered. Shares of stock were printed and delivered to purchasers, Noah said, although the underwriting company was never incorporated.

The warrants, issued by Assistant United States District Attorney Crooks, are based specifically on a letter written April 18, last, to Mr. and Mrs. William Erwin of Coulterville, Ill., who told the Better Business Bureau they had invested $1,000.

According to W. C. Rosenbaum, assistant manager of the Bureau's financial division, Good and Kent used the names of two former Lieutenant-Governors of Missouri as officers of their insurance company. Phil A. Bennett as president and Hiram Lloyd as a director. J. F. Nelson, president of the Marquette Drug Co., was named as vice president and A. L. Hart, former insurance Commissioner of Missouri, as secretary.

Statement by Bennett. Rosenbaum said Bennett explained that he was "taken in by Good on the representation that the stock had all been pledged and that his name was to be used in selling securities." Nelson said he did not authorize the use of his name.

Names of seven persons, besides Erwin, who purchased shares, were made public by Rosenbaum. They were: Alexander Fulton, Coulterville, $6000; Martin Paul, Tilden, Ill., $4000; Charles Lewis, Sparta, Ill., $5500; Sam Capparella, Coulterville, $4000; William A. Diehl, East St. Louis, $500; William Kianke, St. Louis, $1000; and Nelson, $500.

17 Pilots Passing Last Pylon in 50-Mile Event When Lieut. J. P. De Shazo, in Third Place, Tries Trick and Falls.

THIRD ACCIDENT IN AIR CONTESTS

Confusion Is Short-Lived and Another Contest Gets Under Way—Louis Werner, Merchant, Dies on Way to Hospital.

By the Associated Press. CURTIS-REYNOLDS AIRPORT, Chicago, Aug. 27.—The navy plane of Lieut. J. P. De Shazo, speeding 125 miles an hour, sideslipped into a crash beside the south bleachers and burst into flames today. The pilot and one spectator, Louis Werner, Chicago merchant, were killed, and several others were injured. Many escaped by running as the plane fell.

Lieut. DeShazo, whose home is in Alabama, was killed outright. Werner, severely burned, died while being taken to a hospital.

Among others injured were Lief Wallam, a ticket taker, and A. R. Basch, both of Chicago. Basch, witness said, could have saved himself from injury had he not stopped to pull several spectators out of the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Adams, Mrs. Rene Riddford, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCoy were also injured. Mr. and Mrs. Adams were struck by the wheels of the falling plane, and the others were splashed by burning oil.

"Victim Had Finished Third. DeShazo had just finished third in the closed-course 50-mile event for navy planes. He attempted a barrel roll, stalled with it half completed, and sideslipped to earth.

From the ground it appeared that DeShazo's Boeing ship had gone suddenly out of control. It tilted, spun and veered. One wing grazed a concession booth and plane itself narrowly missed the packed bleachers, and burst into flames as it fell.

DeShazo was 30 years old. His base was the airplane carrier Lexington, San Diego, Cal.

DeShazo was unmarried. He entered Annapolis in 1921 and was graduated in 1925. He was a member of the navy unit of stunt flyers known as the fifth fighting squadron.

Spectators Run From Bleachers. Confusion followed the crash. Occupants of the bleachers leaped out of them from all sides and others broke onto the field to run to the scene. Several Fire Department trucks were rushed across the field.

DeShazo just missed several large transport planes standing at the south end of the field, his plane coming down in a space not more than 50 feet square.

The navy planes were bunched together at the finish of the race, which was won by Lieut. D. E. Cornwell, flying at a speed of 127.23 miles. Lieutenant-Commander J. H. Chapman was second at 125.49 miles and the dead flyer was in third place at 125.55 miles.

Another Race Started. Race officials immediately started another event. Announcer Swann Taylor continued to talk through the loudspeaker system and everything then went on as if nothing had happened. The field was quickly cleared.

It was the third crash of two races. The first occurred the opening day, when the plane of the German flyer, Capt. Fritz Loose, fell. The pilot escaped with slight hurts.

A young rider, Kenneth Carr, Detroit, Mich., was seriously injured Monday when his two line dragged, the glider crashing from

GERMAN PLANE
FIRST TO LAND IN NEW YORK HARBOR

Capt. Gronau and Three Companions Cheered by Crowd on Completion of Atlantic Flight.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Nine days after their unheralded departure from Germany, Capt. Wolfgang Von Gronau and his three companions rested today, having completed the fourth successful East-to-West crossing of the North Atlantic by airplane.

They landed their Dornier-Wal flying boat off the Battery wall at 2:45 p. m. yesterday, having made the last leg of their flight from Halifax, N. S., in six hours.

The flight fulfilled for Von Gronau, veteran of the German Imperial Navy Flying Service, an old dream and gave him the distinction of being the first to land a trans-Atlantic plane in New York Harbor. The flight was made in an old reconditioned seaplane, used by Amundsen in Arctic exploration in 1925, and by Capt. Frank Courtney in an unsuccessful attempt to fly across the Atlantic.

It was estimated the flyers covered 4000 nautical miles in a flying time of 47 hours. They stopped in Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Nova Scotia.

A shout from 5000 spectators heralded the plane's arrival. It headed across the tip of Manhattan, circled the Statue of Liberty in salute and then came down, landing gracefully about 50 yards from the aquarium.

It had been expected that the plane would land beside the Statue of Liberty and the Municipal Tug Macom, with a reception committee aboard, was headed there when the plane came down. The tug turned about and the flyers were transferred to it. After a reception their plane and flew to the East River where it was housed in a police hangar.

Capt. Von Gronau said they had no idea when they left the Isle of Sylt in the North Sea that they would fly to New York. "I wanted to see how it would go, how the

LEADER OF REVOLT IN PERU CHOSEN GOVERNMENT HEAD

Lieut.-Col. Sanchez Cerro Accepted by Military Junta at Lima as Nation's Ruler.

UNITES TWO WINGS OF THE REVOLUTION

Deposed President Leguia, Prisoner on Warship, Is III—Diplomats Plead for His Safety.

By the Associated Press.
LIMA, Aug. 27.—Lieutenant-Colonel Luis M. Sanchez Cerro will head the new Government of Peru.

Sanchez Cerro led a bloodless revolution at Arequipa in Southern Peru which preceded the resignation of President Leguia and the taking over of the Government at the capital by a military junta.

The new Cabinet formed. Naval Captain Carlos Roldan, Lieutenant-Colonel Ricardo Lina, Col. Eulogio Castillo and Maj. Felipe Delbarco, Maj. C. Delbarco, Maj. Gustavo Jimenez and Maj. Sologuren.

Cerro objected to Junta. The southern militarist objected to the nature of the junta in control at Lima which sent a commission to him in the expectation that an amicable agreement could be reached. Cerro's answer, according to private advisers, was the seizing of the airplane in which Col. Lopez, the arbiter, and his companions traveled from Lima, and three other planes, including that of the American military expert, Capt. Groves, who also is in custody as an adherent of the former regime of President Leguia.

According to morning newspapers the members of the junta were in session all of yesterday afternoon and the greater part of the night in the palace, leaving only about 2:30 a. m. when Gen. Ponce and some of his colleagues went to Chorrillos to confer with Gen. Sarmiento, Col. Montagne and others. The military school and other army units were said to have declared they would obey only Sanchez Cerro as supreme chief.

Leguia III on Warship. Augusto R. Leguia, for 11 years viceroy of Peru, tried to flee on the cruiser Almirante Grau, which was ordered back to Callao by Sanchez Cerro, and the Junta. Leguia, who is aboard the warship in Callao harbor, is said to be seriously ill with an attack of uremia with which he was seized Monday afternoon, soon after he resigned the presidency.

Friends and the diplomatic corps in Lima sought assurances of his safety, but countering their efforts were the activities of returning exiles and liberated political prisoners.

Increasingly ominous reports reached his bedside from Lima, where a military junta, replacing his 11-year regime, promised the populace that he would be brought back and punished for the "misdeeds" of his dictatorship.

An American physician, Dr. McCormack, visited him three times yesterday aboard the Almirante Grau. After the last visit he said his patient had a temperature of 40 degrees C. (104.4 F.) and was feeling better.

The text of Leguia's resignation from office, disclaiming any motive of personal interest in retaining the presidency for 11 years, has been published here.

"After 11 years of exclusive consecration to my country, having labored for the prosperity and internal order, and having solidified its prestige in international relations, the moment has come to give definite proof that I have never been motivated by personal interests in maintaining the supreme power of Peru."

"Until today (Monday), when we were surprised to learn of the insubordination of the garrisons at Arequipa and Puno, I attributed no great importance to revolutionary attempts against my Government."

"But this eloquent fact, that part of the army desires a military government, impels me to the resolution to resign office, after organizing a military Cabinet under Gen. Manuel Ponce."

Warns Against Anarchy. "After accepting the resignation of the Cabinet of Senor Huamans and leaving the military Government organized, I leave the way open to a constitutional solution which must come as soon as possible in order that law and order again reign in Peru over the anarchy sought by the perennial force of our progress."

"It is believed that Peru may progress without me, let it be so. But the most important thing is that such progress should not be discontinued. Constitutional abnormality is a question of life or death for the nation."

"Anarchy would put an end not only to what I did, but to the very life of the nation. I state that I served my country with all the energies of my heart and all the lights of my brain. I wish to thank my country for its reiterated proofs of sympathy, and I give you, General Representatives, my best thanks for the effective collaboration you afforded me until the last moment."

TELEVISION PROGRAM TONIGHT FROM WMAQ

Chicago Station Sets Up 200
Receiving Sets to Check Test.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The first regularly scheduled television program from WMAQ will be on the air tonight. Both WMAQ and its parent station, WMAQ, are owned by the Daily News.

The program will go on the air at 7 o'clock, central standard time, and will continue for 30 minutes. At the same time the images are on the air the sound part of the act will be broadcast by WMAQ.

Bill Hay will announce the program. His image as well as those of Tuffy Griffith, heavyweight boxer, and a sparring partner, Stanley Harris; Ken Murray, the vaudeville performer; the Whitney Trio; Betty MacLean, a character actress; a saxophonist and Ed G. McDougall, president of Libby, McNeill and Libby, sponsors of the event, will be broadcast.

WMAQ, licensed by the Federal Commission as a television station, expects soon to present three television programs daily. As a check on tonight's test, 200 television sets have been placed in Chicago and suburbs.

Although special equipment is required to pick up the images of performers, the station's regular broadcasting studios will be used. Instead, however, of the single microphone to catch sound there are two huge photostatic cells, 16 inches in diameter, to pick up the image. Engineers of the Western Television Co., installers of the station, say they are the largest ever made.

Viewers of the WMAQ program may see full length images of several performers. An innovation in television equipment enables the station operator to shift from long shots to closeups, exactly as is done in moving pictures.

WIDENING OF TWO STREETS AROUND COURTHOUSE BEGUN

One Block of Eleventh and Also of Chestnut to Be Made 100 Feet.

The widening of Chestnut street in the block between Eleventh and Eleventh streets, in the block between Chestnut and Market streets from 60 to 100 feet, is under way. This will improve the setting of the new Civil Court house and the Eleventh street portion will act as a cutoff for a jog at Market. There is no recent intention of extending the widening of either street.

However, Market street is to be widened as soon as possible from 60 to 100 feet, and Twelfth boulevard already is 100 feet wide. Asphalt will be laid on the Chestnut job and smooth granite on Eleventh, the cost to be met from bond funds, exceeding $25,000.

In about 10 days the city will start replacing rough wood blocks on the spans of the Compton avenue viaduct with asphalt, at a cost of $4000. The approaches are of granite blocks.

progress without me, let it be so. But the most important thing is that such progress should not be discontinued. Constitutional abnormality is a question of life or death for the nation."

"Anarchy would put an end not only to what I did, but to the very life of the nation. I state that I served my country with all the energies of my heart and all the lights of my brain. BANKERS APPROVE LOCAL CREDIT PLAN TO AID FARMERS

Proposal Will Be Submitted to President and Governors of Drouth-Stricken States.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Establishment of local credit corporations as intermediaries between drouth-stricken farmers and intermediate credit banks was formally approved today by banking representatives of relief committees of 14 states.

The conferees met yesterday at the White House and today with Secretary Hyde, chairman of the National Drouth Relief Committee. It adjourned immediately after approving the plan, which will be submitted to President Hoover and to Governors of the states affected.

Under the approved plan, which was proposed by the National Committee, local credit corporations would be created to make loans to farmers through intermediate credit banks established wherever necessary.

Farmers would receive the money from the intermediate bank on the indorsement of the credit corporation which would be permitted to charge an interest rate of 2 per cent above that of the intermediate credit bank. The interest rate of the intermediate credit bank is 4 per cent, making 6 per cent the maximum interest rate to farmers.

In a formal statement made public this afternoon the subcommittee of three bankers said each state must assume the main responsibility for the solution for the problem growing out of the drouth. The statement said the "primary duty" rested upon local bankers and each should utilize all his credit with his correspondent bank and then offer for rediscout such papers as he might have to the Federal Reserve Bank or intermediary.

It added that agricultural credit corporations should utilize their full available lines of discount with the intermediate credit banks and if necessary should increase their capital.

The bankers said if no agricultural credit corporation were available, bankers, business men and farmers should at once form such corporations. They recommended capitalizing them on as broad a basis as possible, adding they should prove valuable not only in emergencies but as permanent institutions.

a height of 22 feet. Carr's condition was reported as still serious, but slightly improved, today. His skull was fractured.

Goebel in Nonstop Derby. The Nonstop Derby from Los Angeles, Cal., was the chief event on today's program. Depend- ing on the speed in which Art Goebel, Dole Pacific flight winner, can span the Western desert, mountains and plains, first place is held by Wiley Post, Oklahoma City.

Post sped across the finish line at Curtiss-Reynolds Airport shortly after 5:30 p. m. yesterday, just nine hours, nine minutes and four seconds after taking off from Los Angeles. Lee Shoenhair, Akron, O., was second. His time was 9:19:17. Capt. William Brock, New York-to-Tokyo flyer, was third with a time of 9:21:17. Five minutes later was Roscoe Turner, former holder of trans-continental records.

Goebel, who further tested his plane yesterday, took off at 5:10 a. m. today (Pacific Coast time), at Los Angeles. Weather reports along the route indicated Goebel would have even better conditions than the favorable winds of yesterday. He said he was confident of beating Post's time.

Eddie Schneider, Jersey City, N. J., is the youngest pilot at the field. He is 15 years old and the holder of the junior transcontinental speed records both east-west and west-east. He has entered several low-power race events.

Heard Gibbs, movie actor, is entered in a sportsman pilots' 25-mile race.

An international speed race is planned for Saturday, officials said, by Marcel Maerx, France; Marshal Pietro Colombo, Italy; Flight Lieutenants Atcherly and Preston, England; Capt. Fritz Loose, Germany; and M. M. Foss and G. M. Sparks, Canada.

Capt. George Andres and Capt. Alexander Magyar, Hungarian pilots planning a flight to Europe, landed in El Paso, Tex., yesterday. They had planned to follow the non-stop Derbyists to Chicago to attend the races. They expect to continue their flight here today, with a stop at Wichita, Kan.

Wiley Post made the first bid for the 1931 air race.

(Copyright, 1930.)

A STUDY of the economic development of this country, of its capacity to produce and consume, of its manufacturing and its markets reveals that general business never has found any saturation point.

We have been considering the present as a time of depression. Yet it is now reported that within the past months $125,000,000 worth of miniature golf outfits have been put into operation. During the worse period of 1921 it was the newly perfected radio that caught the public fancy with sales soon reaching hundreds of millions of dollars. Before that came the motion picture which now sells over 100,000,000 admission tickets each week. Meanwhile the automobile and aircraft industries have been created.

Twenty-five years ago only a few people were engaged in these enterprises. The number now runs into the millions. We can see in these new occupations the natural remedy for labor temporarily displaced by machinery. What course our great financial and scientific resources will take in the next era of development we do not know. But all past experience teaches that it will be an important advance in the economic welfare of the nation.

One of Best-Known Stunt Flyers of the Navy.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Lieut. P. Deshazo, killed today at the Chicago air races, was one of the best-known stunt flyers of the Navy. He was a member of the 1929 battle fleet stunting trio and again this year was a member of the well-known trio known as the "Unholy Three." Deshazo was a member of the "Caterpillar Club," composed of men who have made forced parachute descents. He made a forced jump and landed in the Pacific Ocean in September, 1929. His home address is Montevideo, Ala. He was designated as a naval aviator Dec. 6, 1928.

His plane was damaged by a collision with a ship's mast. He was rescued by a lifeboat and taken to the ship's deck.

weather was and so on, before I definitely decided to continue," he said.

"I can hardly express my feeling in being here. The dream of my whole pilot's life had been to alight some day in this wonderful harbor of New York and see your grand city."

He paid tribute to Lieutenant Commander Reade of the United States Navy, who flew to Europe in 1919, and to the army round-the-world flyers who in 1924 flew over much of the route followed by Von Gronau.

"We hope it is not very long before a trans-Atlantic airplane is landing in New York Harbor every day," he said, but declared it would take a great deal of organization to make possible a trans-Atlantic commercial service over the North Atlantic route.

Like any ordinary mariner, Von Gronau went to the Custom

BLEASE LEADS IN SOUTH CAROLINA SENATE PRIMARY

Reports From 1166 of 1528 Precincts, However, Indicate Run-Off Will Be Necessary to Nominate.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 27.—United States Senator Cole L. Blease, running for renomination in the Democratic primary yesterday, had received 32,294 votes when reports from 1166 of the 1528 precincts had been tabulated. He had a lead of 10,000 over his nearest opponent, but not enough to assure him of nomination.

James F. Byrnes, representative from the Second Congressional District for 14 years and runner-up to Blease six years ago, will probably face him in a run-off primary, Sept. 9. The Democratic nomination is equivalent to election.

In the gubernatorial race, Olin D. Johnston, Spartanburg Legislator and opponent of the State's $65,000,000 highway bond issue, took a commanding lead over seven opponents when reports from 1132 precincts had been tabulated.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Gov. C. C. Young cut down to 32,000 the lead of Mayor James Rolph Jr. of San Francisco for the Republican nomination for Governor as returns from yesterday's primary came in from Southern California counties, notably Riverside. Returns from 8498 precincts out of 10,283 in the State gave Rolph 226,183, Young 305,043, Flitts 244,462.

Frank Merriam of Long Beach, candidate for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor, overtook Senator Tallant Tubbs of San Francisco, advocate of repeal or modification of the prohibition law, after Tubbs had gained a long lead in early returns.

Prohibition did not attain the status of an issue in the governor's campaign although Rolph was conceded to have "liberal" views in that respect. Both Young and Flitts received informal support from dry organizations.

ALLS MAN IN WHOSE AUTO HE FINDS WIFE

Robert Hull, Hunted as Slayer of Thomas Roberts Near Mexico, Mo.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO, Mo., Aug. 27.—Authorities today are seeking Robert Hull, Fulton mechanic, in connection with the killing late yesterday on U. S. Highway No. 64, near Mexico Country Club, of Thomas Roberts, 50, Mexico house-owner and contractor.
Two witnesses, John Marshall, a painter, and John Whitman, a caretaker at the country club, told authorities Hull shot Roberts several times. Hull's wife was riding in a motor car with Roberts. The authorities think Hull was the motive for the killing.
After fatally wounding Roberts, the witnesses said, forced him to enter his car and drove away. Mrs. Hull returned to Fulton last night and was ordered held as a material witness. Her father, Walter Allen of Fulton, a former judge, was arrested.
It was reported, Mrs. Hull had left Roberts' home here. He had been alone since the death of his son two years ago. A note found on Roberts' body read: "Please say hello to my wife and see you Saturday. I have just got to see you.
I almost crazy. I took part of things and moved to Tammam's home. I don't care if you kill me, just say hello to my wife when you do it."
The note was postmarked Fulton and dated last week.

NEW TARIFF VALUATION IN CANADA AGAINST U. S.

By the Associated Press.
OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—A set of values for duties on certain United States produce is announced by E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, in order to prevent dumping in Canada.
The new values follow:
Peaches, 6 cents; cabbage, 1 cent;
cantaloupes, 12 cents; celery, 10 cents; peaches, 12 cents; plums and apples, 8 cents; tomatoes, 10 cents.
The Government action fixes a value upon which the duty paid in the tariff may be deducted. In the case of apples the value is free under the British tariff, 15 per cent. Intermediate and 20 per cent. general tariff.
There is, however, a provision that if at no time shall be less than three-fifths of a cent a pound under the general tariff.

FURTHER CHARGES OF OFFICE BUYING MADE IN NEW YORK

Two More Magistrates, Municipal Court Justice and Official of Higher Court
Mentioned.

LETTERS SENT TO ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Accusations Made in Response to Public Request for Information—Two Tammam Men Named.

By Inland Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Two more magistrates, one Municipal Court Justice, one official of a higher court and several minor appointees, have been named in written communications in response to Attorney-General Ward's public request for information relating to the buying and selling of public office. Assistant Attorney-General Thomas Penny Jr., disclosed last night. At least two Tammamian district leaders are reported to be involved in the charges, mostly concerning the purchase of public office.

The charges concerning the official of a higher court were too general to be of immediate value, but those concerning the other officials were more specific. Penny said at the same time he declared that Attorney-General Ward intends to co-operate to the fullest extent with former Judge Samuel Seabury's broad investigation of the magistracy of Manhattan and the Bronx ordered by the appellate division of the Supreme Court.
It is thought, therefore, that the Attorney-General will submit to Judge Seabury, when the latter returns from Europe about Sept. 6, all the reports and information he has collected relative to City Magistrates.

Federal Investigation.
United States District Attorney Tammam has further difficulties in his effort to unfold before the Federal grand jury the story of the $10,000
"loan" made by Mrs. Bertha E.
Ewald to Martin J. Healy, Tam-mamian district leader, about the time he was elected to office. Ewald was appointed a city magistrate. Federal Judge Simon L. Adler ruled that Thomas T. Tommaney, who announced the "loan," need answer specific questions asked by Tuttle only after Judge Adler had decided whether they might tend to "in-criminate and degrade" Tommaney, as Tommaney has steadfastly insisted all of Tuttle's questions were "irrelevant."

Tuttle said he would draw a list of questions embracing the entire investigation of Tommaney and submit them to Judge Adler. This, it was immediately observed, would permit Tuttle to put on the court record for public consumption his beliefs or suspicions concerning the entire transaction.
The alleged payment by Jacob Cahill, former City Marshal, of $2000 to Healy in connection with Cahill's appointment as Marshal, has been referred to Attorney-General Ward for action.

Ready to Go to Jail.
Warnings of more bloodshed from the Federal Attorney came from attorneys of Mrs. Ewald and Tom-maney. Both I. Nicholas Gordon and Irwin Isaacs told newspaper men that their clients were prepared to go to jail for contempt of court rather than testify before the Federal grand jury.
Gov. Roosevelt and Attorney-General Ward will hold a conference in Buffalo today concerning the Attorney-General's investigation of the Ewald case. After further conferences with his legal advisers in Albany yesterday, the Governor said it is known that there is no question in his mind but that Judge Seabury may go as far as he pleases in charges of the buying and selling of magistrate appointments.

TELLS OF PLOT TO KILL GOVERNOR OF FLORIDA

Former Roommate of Frank Ralls, One of Three Accused, Testifies.

By the Associated Press.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 27.—Clem Dowling of Jacksonville, a former roommate of Frank Ralls, one of three men charged with conspiring to cause the assassination of Gov. Doyle Carlton, testified today that Ralls had told him of the alleged plot. Dowling said Ralls told him that Henry Halsema, another defendant, also was in on the plot.
The plan, Dowling said, was related by Ralls to kill the Governor and lay the blame on Al Capone's gangsters. Dowling said he went to Tallahassee and told the Governor of the plot.
Afterward Dowling said he repeated his conversation with Ralls to Col. Bob Gordon, son of Fitz Gordon of Miami, one of Capone's attorneys, who told his father about it. Vincent Giblin, also an attorney for Capone, then came to Jacksonville, Dowling said.
Dowling said Ralls told him they were to pay $1500 for a gunman, $2500 in advance.
"Gordon came here," Dowling testified, "and told me a man would come to see me about the plot, but the man didn't show up.
I then dismissed the case from my mind until Aug. 4, when Ralls told me 'It's almost ready as we have almost got enough money.'
"I asked who was going to kill the Governor and he said it would be done by two men who had "bumped off" men for two Sheriffs in Florida. Dowling said he tried to persuade Ralls not to go ahead with the alleged conspiracy, but Ralls replied: "It's all right.
They'll think Al Capone is to blame."

TWO PERSONS WOUNDED IN KNIFE-THROWING FIGHT

Butcher and Grocer in Combat and Latter's Wife Is Cut Trying to Play Peacemaker.

A knife-throwing fight between Louis Rein, grocer at 1661 South
Grand boulevard, and his butcher, Fred Schmidt, of 4142 Osceola street, at 10:30 a. m. today resulted in a scalp wound for the butcher, the arrest of Schmidt and Rein and the blocking of Grand boulevard and Lafayette avenue traffic for half an hour.
As related to police, Rein, who resides at 4108 Botanical avenue, reprimanded Schmidt in the store for drinking too much. Schmidt, Rein related, cursed him, and Rein blacked the butcher's eye. The butcher, police reported, began to draw his knives, and Rein hurled back those which struck close at hand. Mrs. Rein stepped between the men as peacemaker and was struck in the right knee with a knife.
Patrolman James Fairies ran to investigate the cause of the traffic blockade and the crowd before the store. Schmidt, he reported, had finished with the knives and got around to the meat cleaver, with which he was threatening Rein. He swung it at the policeman, who dodged and took it away from him.
Schmidt was held a prisoner at City Hospital. Rein locked up the store and was taken to the Magnolia Avenue station. Mrs. Rein was taken home after a physician had taken six stitches in her knee.

PLAN TO REPLACE STREET CARS WITH BUSSES IN ALTON

Mayor Butler to Appoint Committee of Council Members to Confer on Proposal.

A proposal to substitute busses for street cars in Alton, Mo., under consideration by the Alton City Council and Mayor Thomas Butler said he would appoint a committee at tonight's council meeting to investigate the matter. The council two weeks ago authorized appointment of the committee.
Refusal of the street car company, the Alton Railway Co., to pay for the paving between its tracks and 18 inches on each side of the rails under the city's contemplated business district paving program is responsible for the council's action.

Mayor Butler said the company has no franchise, having voluntarily renounced its old franchises five or six years ago, when operated by a receiver. The old franchises required it to pave between the tracks and adjacent to the rails.
"The company claims its operation is not profitable, and that it cannot afford the cost of the paving," Butler said. "We believe that, if it cannot fulfill its obligations to the city and operate without losing money, it should give way to some other form of transportation. Since it has no franchise we could compel it to remove its tracks from our streets, if we finally decide that that is what we want."

"Other cities near Alton's size (30,000) are rapidly replacing street cars with busses. Belleville's local service now is by busses. Decatur, a larger city, is turning to busses. At present there is no local bus service in Alton."

The Alton Railway Co. is a subsidiary of Union Electric Light & Power Co. of St. Louis.

JEFFERSON MINING CO. FILES PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Lists Liabilities at $226,373 and Assets at $54,928. Main Offices in St. Louis.
A voluntary petition in bankruptcy, with schedules showing $226,373 liabilities and assets of $54,928, consisting solely of cash in bank, was filed today in Federal Court by the Jefferson Mining Co., described as incorporated in Oklahoma, but having its principal place of business in St. Louis.
Bonds of $200,000 held by 155 creditors were scheduled as chief liability, besides $27,773 unsecured claims and $600 wages. A notation on the paper set forth that the bonds were secured by a deed of trust, dated May 1915, whereby the company conveyed to the Miami Trust and Savings Bank of Miami, Ok., a "certain leasehold," now terminated.
No officers were named except the secretary, F. W. Hackmann, who signed the petition and, according to another notation, was authorized to file it by the four unnamed directors, meeting Aug. 8 at 703 First National Bank building, since the company was unable to pay debts in full and was willing to surrender its assets for the benefit of creditors.

Five St. Louisans were listed as holding the largest individual amounts of bonds. The 155 other bondholders in amounts up to $5000 each, were chiefly in St.
Louis and small Missouri towns with the remainder scattered throughout many states and the District of Columbia. The five St.
Louisans and their holdings, were listed as follows: T. G. Landers of 4406 McPherson avenue, $22,500;
A. B. Clark of Price road, $18,600;
C. Oscar Lang, care of Treadwell Commission Co., $17,500; the estate of William T. Hill, $15,200; and

STOCKARD ISSUES WARNING AGAINST 'MARRIAGE CLUBS'

Missouri Securities Commissioner Says They Are Schemes to Enrich Promoters.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 27.—
Fenton T. Stockard, State Securities Commissioner, last night issued a warning to citizens of Missouri against investing in "marriage clubs," which he said may be organized in this State in the future.
Stockard said such clubs have no right to sell memberships in Missouri and come under the fraud section of the State securities act.
Such clubs, Stockard said, provide that each member is to receive $1000 at marriage or such amount as is set out on the membership certificate. Each member pays $15.50 for initiation, $40 annual dues and is assessed $1.25 on the marriage of each member. The contract matures in one year and each member is paid $250 if married after three months, $500 after six months, $900 after nine months and $1000 at the end of the year.
Stockard described the scheme as "unsafe and dangerous to investors," and as being "a scheme to enrich promoters."

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 27.—
William Russell, 32 years old, Meeker County farmer, beat to death with an automobile pump Cliff Claunch, 45, neighboring farmer, when he returned last evening and found him and Mrs. Russell at the Russell home. Russell claims Claunch was breaking up his home.

"I didn't want to kill him, but wanted to give him a good licking," declared Russell. Mrs. Russell has not been seen since.

When black smoke rolled from

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug.
27.—The closing of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank at Rich Hill by its board of directors this morning, caused a run on the People's Bank of Rich Hill, which was forced to close shortly before noon, according to information received by S. L. Cantley, State Finance Commissioner. The Farmers and Merchants Bank was closed because of frozen loans.

The Peoples Bank had resources of $170,000, loans $145,000, capital stock $15,000, surplus $4000 and will take charge of both the closed banks.

The Farmers and Merchants
Bank's last statement showed $25,-

MAN AND FIANCEE FOUND STABBED TO DEATH ON BEACH

Manager of Monrovia (Cal.) Paint Company and Student of California University Are Victims.

By the Associated Press.
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 27.—
The killing on a beach near En-senada, Mexico, of Francis Conlon, Monrovia (Cal.) Paint Co. manager, and Loly Marion Kentle, 23 years old, his fiancée, was investigated by Lower California and San Diego County authorities today.

A posse of Mexican police, border guards and San Diego police searched border hills for a youth seen with the pair shortly before they were found stabbed to death Monday.

A book and a telegram were claws investigated by authorities.
The book, lying near Miss Kentle's body, had been taken from the Los Angeles Library by Charles A. Parker, her invalid brother-in-law. It was entitled "The End of the Honeymoon."

The telegram received by Conlon Saturday and saying, "Everything is all right. Meet me John," was sent by John de Wilde, operator of an Avocado ranch near Vista, authorities said.

Officers said de Wilde explained the telegram was in answer to an invitation to accompany Conlon and Miss Kentle to Tijuana. Deputy Sheriff O. C. Macomber and Wilde said Conlon arrived at a hotel at Vista and stayed there Sunday. After a trip to Tijuana, Wilde said, Conlon and Miss Kentle left him and his wife four miles north of the Mexican town saying they were going on to Mount Lowe, near Pasadena.

S. B. Reachi, personal representative of Gov. Jose Maria Tapia, said immigration office records showed Miss Kentle signed the register Sunday at 9 a. m. as Francis and Loly Conlon. At 3 p. m.
Reachi said informants told him,
the pair pitched a tent on the beach near Ensenada.

Miss Kentle was a student in the University of California and for two years was president of the university's Chapter of Phi Mu Sorority.

CARMEN WANT HEARING ON DAY-OFF DISPUTE

Union Appeals to Public Service Commission for Ruling on Agreement.

Officers of the Street Car Men's Union have applied for a hearing before the State Public Service Commission to obtain a ruling on a clause in the working agreement with the Public Service Co., granting the $200 motormen and conductors one day off a week.

The plea for a hearing on the clause, which provides that union employees shall be entitled to an average of one day off every seven days over the year, resulted from refusal of the company to extend for 30 days a temporary arrangement giving motormen and conductors a day off every eighth day. The temporary agreement with the company was started July 1 to prevent the discharge of about 100 reserve employees.

The agreement expires next Sunday, and union officers sought a month's extension on the theory that passenger traffic will increase during September, due to the opening of schools and probable bad weather, providing work for all men now on the company's rolls. Company officers replied they saw no advantage to an extension of the plan, according to Harry Nelson, president of the union.

In the past the men have had difficulty in getting off, due to a shortage of extra employees, Nelson said. Company officers, in turn, stated that many of the men, who are paid on an hourly scale, ranging from $2 to $9 cents an hour, want to work seven days a week to increase their earnings.

A day of rest each week by the $200 regular platform men would give work to about 125 additional reserve employees, Nelson estimates.

HOMICIDE VERDICT IN AUTO KILLING

Negro, Who, Police Say, Admits Running Down Man, Ordered Held Under Bond.

A coroner's verdict of homicide was returned today in the case of Henry C. Hunt, 52 years old, a collector, of 3029 Easton avenue, who died at City Hospital yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday night when struck by a speeding machine, the driver of which failed to stop.

Henry Turner, Negro chauffeur, 4307 Cote Brilliante avenue, who was arrested early Sunday and admitted being the driver, according to police, was ordered held under $10,000 bond.

Hunt was struck as he was crossing Easton avenue at Leonard avenue. Firemen of Engine Company 17, located at the intersection, reported that the machine, a large sedan, was driven by a Negro. Several hours later officers in a police machine noticed a sedan with a dented fender parked in front of Turner's home. They arrested the Negro and took him to City Hospital, where physicians pronounced him intoxicated.

The newspaper said it had learned that a gunman was thwarted in the attempt by a hotel house detective who appeared just as the man had drawn a pistol outside the Druggan suite. The man escaped, the paper said, and police were notified. Terry's younger brother, George, was wounded several weeks ago in a gangland shooting at a Fox Lake (Ill.) roadhouse. Three of his companions were killed.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF TERRY DRUGGAN FOILED

Chicago Paper Says Gunman Tried to Kill Gangster in Hotel Suite.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Today's Herald and Examiner says Terry Druggan, erstwhile beer running ally of Frankie Lake, is surrounded with body guards in a loop hotel after an attempt had been made to kill him Sunday.

The newspaper said it had learned that a gunman was thwarted in the attempt by a hotel house detective who appeared just as the man had drawn a pistol outside the Druggan suite. The man escaped, the paper said, and police were notified. Terry's younger brother, George, was wounded several weeks ago in a gangland shooting at a Fox Lake (Ill.) roadhouse. Three of his companions were killed.

THREE SAILORS BRING TIDINGS OF SCHOONER ADRIFT AT SEA

Reach Atlantic City Exhausted After Dory Uproots When in Sight of Land.

By the Associated Press. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27.—Three sailors landed exhausted on the beach this morning in quest of aid for a disabled schooner, which they said they left adrift 16 miles out at sea yesterday with four other men aboard. The three rowed 16 hours in a dory. When they came in sight of land the dory capsized and they were forced to swim two hours and a half to reach shore, they said.

Questioned by police, the sailors declined to tell the nature of the cargo of this schooner, the Francis T., bound from Halifax to Bermuda, except to say it carried "merchandise."

HENRY SIEGEL DIES; ONCE MERCHANT KING

Owned Stores From Coast to Coast, Failed; Opened Haberdashery Shop.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Henry Siegel, former millionaire merchant and once head of the Siegel-Cooper enterprises in New York, Boston and Chicago, which failed for several million dollars in 1913, died of a heart attack Monday afternoon in Kimball Hospital, Lakewood, N. J. It was learned yesterday.

Less than two years ago he was taken to the Hackensack, N. J., hospital suffering with heart disease. Hope for his life was despaired of at the time, but he recovered and continued to run the little haberdashery shop in Hackensack that he established under the name of Henry's.

Born in Germany in 1882, he emigrated to the United States when he was 15. For nine years he stayed in New York City, working in department stores and laying the foundations of a career that was eventually to lead him to the top of the merchandising profession.

Then he went to Chicago, where he established the clothing firm of Siegel, Hartshorn & Co. Later he established Siegel Bros. and finally Siegel-Cooper & Co. and in the early part of the present century he controlled six large department stores from Chicago to Boston.

Then the crash came. He and his former business partner, Frank E. Vogel, were indicted on a charge of defrauding depositors of the private bank he had established in his store here, while receivers took over the remains of the huge enterprises and tried to salvage a few dollars for the creditors.

When the criminal case came before the courts a change of venue was granted on the ground that the defendants could not obtain a fair trial in New York and the trial was held in Genesee, N. Y. In the meantime Vogel died. Siegel was tried, convicted and sentenced to prison for nine months. When he came out he started all over again in Hackensack, but never gave his name to his store.

Mr. Siegel's domestic life was stormy. His first wife, to whom he was married in Chicago in 1915, died the following year. His second wife, Mrs. Marie Vaughan Wilde, divorced him soon after his conviction. He met his third wife, who survives him, in Genesee during his trial. She was a telegraph operator, who sent hourly reports of the trial to New York newspapers. They were married quietly and for a number of years she assisted him in the haberdashery store in Hackensack. In March, 1927, he started a divorce action against her. The case never came to trial, and when he became ill two years ago she took him to the hospital and a reconciliation followed.

Two titled daughters, Lady Cavendish of London and Countess Carlo Dentice de Frasso, survive.

OWNERS OF WRECKED VESTRIS PLACED IN RECEIVERSHIP

Lampert & Holt of London Suffered Loss of $350,000 in Last Year's Business.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Aug. 27.—Justice Humphreys in Vacation Court today appointed a receiver and manager of the business of Lampert & Holt, shipowners, and one of the royal mail group of steamship companies. The application was made on behalf of the London Maritime Investment Co. as trustee for the debenture stockholders. The justice also granted the plaintiff's permission to borrow £50,000 (about $250,000) to advance to the Liverpool, Brazil & River Plate Steam Navigation Co., and advance £100,000 (about $500,000) to the same company to keep it going.

The Lampert & Holt Co., owners of the steamer Vestril sunk off the American coast in November, 1929, with the loss of 112 lives, was founded 85 years ago. Among its directors are Lord Kylant, the Marquis of Carlisle and Lord Salford.

The company's balance sheet for December, 1929, showed a loss of about $350,000 after providing for interest of about $725,000 on about $14,750,000 of 5 per cent debenture stock.

The Lampert & Holt Co. controls the Liverpool, Brazil & River Plate Steam Navigation Co.

Zeppelin's Voice Record in Junk.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Aug. 27.—A phonograph record of the voice of the late Count Ferdinand von Zeppelin, the existence of which was unknown before, has been discovered in a pile of junk by a local phonograph company. A primitive wax cylinder of 1908, still in good working order, it is thought to be the sole record of the famous aeronaut's voice. It reproduces his "Appeal to the German People," twisting his faith in the type of dirigible airship made for him, after one had been wrecked.

COUZENS TELLS OF HIS 'CONVERSION' TO LABOR

Senator Relates How He Got Ford to Agree to $5-a-Day Wage.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Aug. 27. — United States Senator James Couzens, on his fifty-eighth birthday anniversary yesterday, recalled the incident 16 years ago which he said "converted" him to the principles which caused his political opponents to call him "radical" and "irresponsible."

The incident occurred when Couzens was a leader in industry, before he became the Senator who last winter started a group of manufacturers by assailing as "careless" and "thoughtless" present employment methods and warned them that "unless business does something to stabilize the working man's income, Government will."

"I confess there was a time when I was not so keen about the rights and interests of the working man," Couzens said. "I recall a winter day in 1914, when I ordered the discharge of several thousand workers of the Ford Motor Co. of which I was general manager. I stood in the office window and saw these men milling about, outside the gates. It was bitterly cold and under these conditions I saw the hose turned on them."

"I was converted right there. After 48 hours of discussion, Henry Ford agreed to raise wages from $2.10 a day to $5, in the hope that such men as we could retain might save something out of the increased wages for any contingency of lay-off in the future, and for that I want to pay my warmest compliments to Mr. Ford."

The reference to Ford was one of the few Couzens has made publicly in recent years to the man in whose association he rose from a clerk to immense wealth in 16 years. It was about a year after the incident related that Couzens left the Ford company after a disagreement with Mr. Ford. Later he sold his interest in the firm for $30,000,000.

This birthday recalled another when Couzens was 55. On that day he said that "there isn't enough work to keep a Senator busy," and that "we (United States Senators) are all overpaid, and vacations are too long." The statement created a furor, but Couzens has been in turmoil more often than not, including a long quarrel with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Tender, Irritating Rashes quickly overcome

The quickness with which Resinol Soap and Ointment act in most cases of skin disorder amazes many people. Itching is often stopped at once. The soap cleanses the skin and prepares it to receive the ointment, which soothes and heals. The daily use of Resinol Soap for the toilet and bath is unexcelled for keeping the skin clear, soft and youthful. Note its tonic odor.

HURLEY TO BEGIN RIVER INSPECTION THIS WEEK

War Secretary to Make 3000-Mile Mississippi Trip to Get Data on Projects.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Undertaking the most thorough and extensive survey of America's greatest engineering project yet made, Patrick J. Hurley, Secretary of War, will leave the latter part of the week for an inspection of the Mississippi waterways system from Minneapolis to the Gulf of Mexico.

The Secretary has a three-fold purpose in mind in making the trip by boat from the Upper Mississippi to New Orleans. He wants to get first-hand information on inland waterway enterprises, flood control projects and rivers and harbors works so in discussing these questions with President Hoover and advisers in Washington, he will have an intimate picture of the situation.

Next, the trip will enable the Secretary to survey such projects as army engineers may would benefit local unemployment by being expedited. Almost equally important, Hurley says, will be conferences with local interests and consultations with army engineers on the ground. Each of the district engineers will board the Secretary's boat when it reaches their territory to tell him of the work now being done in their districts.

Major-General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, and Thomas G. Ashburn, chairman of the Inland Waterways Corporation, will accompany the Secretary on the trip, which, with side excursions by airplane, will total nearly 3000 miles.

Hurley's plans call for stop-overs at the more important cities along the Mississippi. From these points he will fly to more distant projects off the river to get a bird's-eye view of numerous projects.

Pledges Aid to Home Merchants.

By The Associated Press. TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 27.—The Republican Council of Kansas adopted resolutions yesterday pledging support to local merchants in competition with chain stores. Legislation to prevent corporation farming, whereby large areas of land are taken over for cultivation by power units under a single management, also was proposed.

BROADWAY FUNERAL FOR LEOPOLD AUER

Crowd Mills in the Street During Service for Noted Violin Teacher.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Broadway yesterday bade farewell to the man who taught Michla Elman and Jascha Heifetz to play the violin. Perhaps the late Dr. Leopold Auer cared little for Broadway during his lifetime, but that mattered not to Broadway. While Heifetz played the Schubert "Ave Maria" at the bier of his friend and teacher in a Broadway funeral establishment, crowds of persons pounded on the doors outside, disputed with the police and clamored for admission.

When the service had ended many persons pressed their faces against the windows of the firmousines in which Dr. Auer's more celebrated pupils followed his body to the grave. They grabbed at the floral tributes, tearing away buds for souvenirs. Several of the pieces were seriously damaged.

So great was the crowd that Mrs. Auer was severely jostled. Heifetz had to call out his name to get through. Broadway came early and soon filled the little chapel, in which the funeral of Rudolph Valentino was conducted four years ago. As a result, many of Dr. Auer's old friends and associates of high standing in the musical world were unable to get in.

Among those who were Michla Levitzky, pianist; Max Rosen, one of Dr. Auer's former pupils, and Jacques Gordon, former concertmaster of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Standing in the throng on the sidewalk was Isidore Greenberg, one of Dr. Auer's former pupils, and inside, pleading with attendants to be permitted to go up to the chapel, was Mrs. Greenberg, whose family still lives in the part of Hungary where Dr. Auer was born.

The families had been friends for generations. At night the Greenbergs rode to the house in time and Mrs. Greenberg, after having become separated from her husband in the crush outside, was being escorted up to the chapel by Elman when a door was slammed between them.

When the crowd threatened to batter down a door that led indirectly to the chapel, police started to clear the place. One woman refused to move. Two policemen carried her away.

In the chapel four priests stood at the corners of the casket and chanted the ancient ritual of the Russian Orthodox Church. Josef Hofmann played the first movement of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata."

DAWES VISITS PREHISTORIC CAVE ART GALLERY IN SPAIN
Ambassador, on Vacation Tour, Examines Paintings Said to Date Back 10,000 Years.

SANTANDER, Spain, Aug. 27.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, arrived here last night to examine the prehistoric drawings and paintings of the Altamira caves. Europe's oldest art collection, Dawes and his party, including Dr. George Grant MacCurdy of Yale University, noted archeologist, came here from a visit to the caves and relics of prehistoric man in the Dordogne region of France.

He traveled many miles in sweltering heat, but has found his archeological vacation tour one of the finest experiences he has ever had. He will explore the caves under the guidance of the Duke of Alba, Spain's Minister of State, who is an archeologist of note.

The paintings and drawings on the rock walls of the caves, are dated by scientists at 10,000 to 20,000 years ago.

Dawes smiled when told of reports that he might be here to evolve a "Dawes plan," the aim of which would be to stabilize the depressed pasta and improve business. Dawes emphasized that he came to Spain to see its prehistoric places and relics. Dawes is 65 years old today.

E. P. MORSE FALLS DEAD WHILE INSPECTING NEW HOME

Head of United Dry Dock, Inc., Largest Concern of Its Kind in World.

DEEP BROOK, Digby County, N. S., Aug. 27.—Edward P. Morse, president of United Dry Dock, Inc., of New York, the largest organization of its kind in the world, collapsed yesterday while he supervised a detail in the construction of his new $250,000 home here and was dead before medical aid could reach him. He was 73 years old and reputedly worth about $400,000. Mrs. Morse was with him when he collapsed.

Morse went to New York from Nova Scotia and won prominence as industrialist and financier as head of the Morse Iron Works Dry Dock Co., 30 years ago. In 1903 this company was forced into receivership after a bitter fight between Morse and the labor unions. In bankruptcy proceedings he listed $100 worth of clothes as his sole assets.

Subsequently he established the Morse Dry Docks and Repair Co. in New York and as head of this concern won back his position of influence. A year and a half ago he was instrumental in the consolidation of New York's six leading dry dock companies into United Dry Dock, Inc., with properties valued at more than $10,000,000 and controlling half the dry dock capacity of New York harbor. Morse was the father of E. P. Morse Jr., head of the National Dry Dock and Repair Co. Surviving also are another son, Roy Morse, and a daughter, Mrs. Jessie Bishop.

17-YEAR-OLD EXTORTIONIST
Chicago Florist's Messenger Confesses Sending Threats to Women. By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—An extortion plot conceived by a 17-year-old school boy and aimed at the wives of wealthy men where he had been sent as a florist's messenger, was disclosed to police today by the boy, Benjamin Markowitz.

Letters were mailed to half a dozen women, demanding various sums, mostly $4000. He instructed the women to put the money in a package and drop it over a certain fence. He was arrested as he was picking up a decoy package. Markowitz threatened death in the letters to those who refused to meet his demands.

CHIEF WHEAT STATES TO REDUCE ACREAGE

Farm Board Reports Average Cut of 4.5 Per Cent in Sowing.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The Farm Board sees a support of its acreage reduction policies in Agriculture Department reports that farmers intend to seed 4.5 per cent less winter wheat this fall than last fall.

Board headquarters, in the absence of Chairman Legge and Sam R. McKelvie, member representing grain, authorized a statement that the reduction in the heart of the winter wheat belt, notably Kansas, was of particular significance since, in that State, the bitterest opposition to acreage adjustment developed.

Kansas expects an acreage only 93 per cent as large as the acreage in 1929: Nebraska, 87 per cent; Oklahoma, 87 per cent; Texas, 95 per cent, and Colorado, 93 per cent.

While considered favorable to the Farm Board's program, the situation in Kansas admittedly is somewhat of a puzzle. The reduction in intended sowing there is figured against the largest acreage in the history of Kansas, unless the 1929 acreage proves to have been larger. In 1929 Kansas harvested 11,476,000 acres, as against 10,432,000 in 1928 and an average acreage of 9,352,000 for 1923-27, inclusive.

Sowing More Than Harvesting.

Even a 7 per cent reduction from the acreage sown in 1929 would give Kansas an acreage of 11,739,000 acres, more than the record acreage harvested in 1929.

There is a bright side, however, in the Government's estimate that actual sowing usually averages 4 per cent below August intentions. Further reductions result from abandonment of considerable acreage after it is sown. In 1929 Kansas abandoned 5 per cent of its acreage sown and 15.3 per cent in 1918 to 1927, inclusive.

Abandonment of intentions to sow and abandonment of sown acreage may bring the acreage actually harvested in 1931 much lower than surface conditions indicate.

According to current estimates, 41,392,000 acres of winter wheat will be sown this fall, as compared with 42,820,000 acres in 1928, of which 40,162,000 acres were harvested. It is the lowest intended acreage since 1923.

Situation in New Mexico.

Farmers in 17 of the 22 states growing winter wheat report intentions to sow more land this fall than a year ago, but they are no sure producing states. With the exception of New Mexico, all have harvested larger acreages at some time in the past than in 1929. New Mexico anticipates a 5 per cent increase over its record of 263,000 acres in 1929.

Almost all cotton states, except Texas and Oklahoma, show intention to increase their acreage of winter wheat from 10 to 50 per cent over the acreage in 1929. Georgia lists a 50 per cent increase, but Georgia harvested only 85,000 acres in 1929, as against 125,000 in 1927.

Nevada and Washington are the other two states indicating a 50 per cent increase. It is not considered so important in Nevada, where 5000 acres in 1926 was a record, but Washington indicates an acreage of 1,956,000 acres, as compared to 1,210,000 harvested in 1929 and 1,424,000 in 1928.

MEXICO STARTS BANISHING ALL UNDESIRABLE ALIENS

Only Foreigners Who Entered Country Legally and Are Registered Will Remain.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 27.—Mexico has started to clear the country of undesirable foreigners. Deportation orders already have been issued against a great number, including several Americans. The Government intends to continue this practice until only those foreigners who have given evidence of their legal residence in the country and a valid reason for being here will remain.

Late last year the Interior Department announced that all foreigners in the country must go to the department and show proof that they entered the country legally and properly established their residence, also that they were not public charges or engaged in immoral pursuits.

Cards entitling these foreigners to remain permanently in Mexico were issued and the time limit for application was advanced on several occasions, finally expiring Aug. 15.

CONVICT KILLED IN RIOT OF 25 AT LOUISIANA PENITENTIARY

Group Refuses to Work Under Contract and Rescues Itself in Cellhouse.

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 27.—Quiet prevailed today in the Louisiana Penitentiary after the killing of Curtis Blackwell, 19-year-old Negro prisoner, in a riot of more than 25 convicts who refused to work on a private rice farm and barricaded themselves in a temporary cellhouse.

Guards climbed to an adjoining roof and gained admittance to the cellhouse by breaking through a vent opening. The convicts threw missiles and the guards opened fire. Blackwell was fatally wounded, a Coroner's report said, by John Stovall, Negro trusty guard, serving a life sentence for murder. Commenting on a rumor that the prisoners had rebelled against the quality of their food, Capt. W. W. Ficus said he found no ground for complaint. He expressed the opinion the men were "too lazy to work."

The use of prisoners under contract on the farm recently was condemned by a State Senate investigation the men were "too lazy to gating Committee."

TELEPHONE COMPANY FOREGOES

RATE RISE DUE TO DROUTH

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 27.—Because of the ravages of the drouth, the Ozark Central Telephone Co. has foregone an increase in rates recently authorized in Licking, Mo., by the State Public Service Commission. It was announced by the commission today.

The company on July 2 was issued an order to increase rates in Licking, but today the head of the telephone company advised the Public Service Board that, on account of the drouth, which has been severe in the vicinity of Licking, economic conditions have been created which cause the company to desire to reinstate the old rates.

The company advised the commission it was willing to forego its right to earn a higher return on its property and thus share with its patrons the loss brought about by the drouth. The new rates will not be made effective until the vicinity has recovered to some extent, the commission was told.

500,000 ARE UNEMPLOYED IN RUSSIA, GIRLS INCLUDED

Shortage of skilled labor and, in some districts unskilled; Dockers needed.

By the Associated Press. MOSCOW, Aug. 27.—Official figures issued today gave the approximate total of unemployed in Soviet Russia as 500,000. The government explained that some of these are itinerants and the remainder youths, mainly girls.

The shortage of skilled labor is growing. In some districts it is impossible to find even unskilled workers. Leningrad port operations are badly crippled owing to the shortage of dockers.

The authorities estimate that new industries next year will mean 400,000 workers to replace men being retired for age or disabilities.

$10,000 Fire at Fordland, Mo. FORDLAND, Mo., Aug. 27.—Fire of undetermined origin early this morning destroyed the Frank Wright mercantile store and the McNatt Stores Co., as well as a vacant building adjoining. A bucket brigade fought for several hours to keep the fire from spreading. Many from nearby communities joined in fighting the fire. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

SPECIAL RAILROAD RATES

TO NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW

Lines Entering St. Louis to Grant the Lowest Fares for State Days.

Every railroad running into St. Louis will offer reduced rates during the National Dairy Show at The Arena the week of Oct. 11, according to announcement by S. H. Anderson, executive secretary of the National Dairy Association. Several special trains also will be operated.

The lowest rate offered applies to special State days at the exposition and affords a round trip fare at 75 per cent of the regular one-way tariff. Most of the special rates, however, are based on a fare and one-third for a round trip ticket.

Special state days, which have been designated include Missouri day, Oct. 14; Mid-South day, including the States of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky, Oct. 14; Illinois and Indiana day, Oct. 15, and Mid-West day for Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin, Oct. 6. A new feature for the 1930 exposition is the establishment of "All States Days," which will occur Oct. 11-13 for those states not included in other special days.

Other special days include vocational students' day, Oct. 11; Agricultural College students' day, Oct. 12; 4-H Club day, Oct. 14; Gopatis day, Oct. 16; St. Louis day, Oct. 17. Gopatis day is dedicated to the Guild of Gopatis, an organization of dairymen on the national honor roll.

150 HORSES MAY COMPETE IN TWO-DAY MEET AT FAIRMOUNT TRACK

FULL FIELDS ASSURED FOR 16 RACES ON THE PROGRAM

It now appears probable that 150 horses will be here for the two-day race program to be staged by the Fairmount Jockey Club and union labor organizations Saturday and next Monday. This will insure full fields for all of the 16 races carded for these two days. Racing Secretary Julius Reeder, writing from Bainbridge, O., where he is engaged as racing secretary and is overseeing the shipment of horses from that point today, says that entries are being accepted there for the first day's program. The shipment that arrived at Fairmount Tuesday brought 100 horses. Two cars came from the Hawthorne track at Chicago, some belonging to Ed McCuan, E. K. Bryson, B. B. Rice and J. J. O'Malley. Some of these racers are well known Fairmount performers and include McCuan's Germane Chauvelot, Bill Phillips sent four horses from Springfield, Ill., where they had raced at the State Fair. "The big horse train special will arrive early Thursday from Bainbridge and is bringing approximately 100 horses. Eighteen jockeys are also coming on the special from Bainbridge. Racing Secretary Julius Reeder will also arrive Thursday morning and will be at his office at the track. Joseph Catanzaro, director of the mutual department, is due to arrive Thursday and will arrange his crew for the meeting.

It is the announced intention to use in the mutual department as many men who worked at the 49-day spring meeting as possible. Many of these employees have been notified to be at the track for the roll call of mutual employees at 3 p. m. Friday.

"The first race is to start promptly at 2 p. m. on each day of the meeting."

Sport Salad

How Dry Khayyam.

"Ours Rubio OK's Beer." THE sale of beer in dear old Mexico has been OK'd by Ours Rubio. As long as the consumers are content with 5 per cent of alcohol, or so. When Omar Khayyam wrote his Rubaiyat extolling wine in flagon, jug or vat. He didn't name the alcohol content. But called it wine and let it go at that. So while the Rubaiyat of Rubio, May fill a long-felt want in Mexico. What our came from the cotton-splitting states. Ostensibly remain as dry as tow. But there is more in this than meets the eye. We hear there's lots of drinking on the sly. And we've been told by those who claim to know. That these United States are not so dry. Then fill the cup and in the fire of spring. The winter garments of repentance fling. One drink brings on another for 'tis said. A bird can't fly with but a single wing.

Oh, Yeah!

Following the purchase of Long George Kelly from Minneapolis the Cubs grabbed Jess Petty from Newark. Youth will be served.

Stop Gaps.

WHENEVER a pennant they're striving to clinch. They stop all the gaps with the vets in a pinch.

When youngsters get hurt with a pennant in sight.

They page an old warhorse to finish the fight.

"Middle Merchants Demand Erection of Market by City."

To market, to market at 13th and Middle; Home again, home again, meat on the griddle.

The bond issue provided for a new Middle street market. Is the city dodging the issue?

He Came Across.

See where the Detroit Tigers hire a young hunter named Bridges who put one over on the Browns his first time out.

A broken rib being one of the few things that had never happened to Chick Hafey, he managed to pick one up during the visit of the Giants. In case he should run out of accidents and other ills Chick is holding house maid's-knee in reserve.

"Mercedes Gets Swiss Helicopter Second Time."

It's a habit forming pastime. Ask Leander, he knows. "Waterloo Hunting Star Bought by Brown."

The Brownies have met their Waterloo so often they're beginning to like it.

However, with Eddie Wilkins the hero of Waterloo in the points they might pass it along to some one else. Looks like first division.

UNITED STATES ATHLETES FAVORED TO BEAT BRITISH EMPIRE TEAM

BRITONS STRONG IN THE SPRINTS, AMERICANS IN FIELD CONTESTS

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Under the rufous rays of huge arc lights, warring mercenaries of the British Empire and the United States clash on historic Soldier Field tonight in another international classic of the cinder paths.

The battle of brawn and flying spikes, the fourth duel international track and field meet between the two English speaking nations, promised an estimated throng of more than 25,000 spectators thrills and new records.

England, aided by its best talent from six dominions, presented a formidable front but was expected to lose in the 14 event struggle, although the result appeared to hinge on but two events—the 400-yard relay and the 480-yard shuttle races. In these two races, the Americans had the best record on season's form.

All six of the running races were all but conceded to the Britons while the American stars, most of them from the Pacific coast, expected to score a grand slam of first places in the weight and field events.

Canadian Runner Will Be Missed.
The loss of Percy Williams, 1928 Olympic champion in the 100 and 200-meter events, was a crushing blow to British hopes. Williams, one of those counted on to bring the Britons a victory in the 400-yard relay, pulled a tendon in the English games at Hamilton, Ontario, and was forced to remain out of tonight's struggle.

Leading England's invading army were such stars as Lord David Burghley, Olympic 400-meter hurdle champion; James Ball, Canadian 400-meter star; Leigh Miller of Canada, who defeated all opponents in the indoor sprints last winter; Phil Edwards, former New York University star half-mile who will represent British Guiana and Lay, New Zealand's long distance javelin thrower.

Prominent among the American stars were Orval Martin, national intercollegiate one-mile champion; Tom Warner, national collegiate pole vault champion; Eddie Tolan, George Simpson, dash stars; Steve Anderson, Washington University hurdler; Herman Brix, shot putter of fame; Ray Conner, distance star, and Lee Sontman, University of Illinois hurdle star.

Dash Points Don't Count.
A 100-yard dash will be held as a special attraction, but the points will not count in the final tabulation.

Tonight's meet is the fourth between the two nations and incidentally falls on the second anniversary of the signing of the Kellogg peace pact. The first was a tie but the Americans won the next two handily.

William R. Castle, Assistant Secretary of State, will act as an emissary for President Hoover tonight, greeting the athletes in an address before the opening of the meet.

Fair weather was the forecast.

TWO BOUTS ADDED TO FRIDAY'S BOXING CARD

Bill Trout, Olympian A. C. featherweight, and Fred Wilken, of the South Broadway A. C., and Duke Klemons, a newcomer from the Senate A. C., opposes Buck Needham of Barney McCarthy's Stable, in two of the bouts on Friday night's amateur boxing card at the Olympian A. C. outdoor arena.

Tom Conroy, matchmaker for the Mississippi Valley Amateur Association, rematched Trout and Wilken because their last meeting was a hectic affair. Wilken got the shade in the recent bout. Needham is a great deal more experienced than Klemons, but the youngster's clever all-round ring work should enable him to hold his own.

Joe Herbst Jr., shifty local welterweight, who has beaten most of fighters in his division, and Herbie Hahn, former city amateur champion, meet in the special match on the coming card. Another welterweight bout will bring together Elmer Pokinghorne, Western A. A. U. welterweight champion, and Johnny Bush, a North Side youngster.

Ed Richardson and Carl Schaefer, whose last match was close, will clash in another important battle.

TAILOR DEFEATS VOLTZ IN CADDY TOURNAMENT

Harry Taiter defeated Ed Voltz, 7 up and 4 to play in the final match in the championship class in the Midland Valley Club's caddy tournament. Taiter had medal rounds of 73 and 77. In Class A, Jerome Hogan won from Harold Frederick, 1 up, 34 holes.

Tenpin Match Tonight.

A double attraction will be held at Twentieth and Angelica bowling alleys tonight, the feature of which is a contest between the Hyde Park Recreation team and the South Side Chevrolet, both members of the Major City, at 8 p. m. The other match will be bowled between the Litchko team and the Elk Specials. Both contests are three-games total pins to count.

No "Local Prides."

ONE difficulty connected with boxing promotion here is that there are no local boys of outstanding merit," commented Jimmy Bronson, who is marking time in his negotiations with local boxing promoters. "At least I am told that is the case. Communities that can focus their interest on two or three home-bred boxers, usually make a ripe field for fight promotion."

Boston has shown this on several occasions, dating back to John L. Sullivan, the Boston Strong Boy, of 40 years ago. Jack Sharkey and, for a time, Jimmy Maloney, also have had the Bostonians all excited."

Which will remind St. Louisans that boxing has some real good days when Charley Regan, Kid Sandy, Harry Klabakoff, Harry Trendall and Leo Kelly were considered promising fighters. It's a dull city that has to vent its enthusiasm on visiting talent."

Bronson Honored.

JIMMY BRONSON, during his recent trip abroad, established a connection that long has been sought by Englishmen residing in America as well as by American boxing leaders. The National Sporting Club of London has named Bronson its American representative. Bronson will have charge of arranging the American end of international contests to be held at the National Sporting Club's new arena.

"The famous British organization, which went into semi-eclipse with the rise of private fight promotion in London, has decided to meet competition," Bronson commented today. "It is completing a new arena which will seat about 18,000 persons and is deemed sufficient to accommodate the private membership of the club, and still supply enough gate receipts to meet the larger guarantees to fighters which are required today."

"I have been commissioned to sign Kid Berg for the first fight in the new National Sporting Club's stadium, but his opponent is not yet agreed upon."

Real Aid to Boxing.

THE National Sporting Club for years dominated British boxing, with Lord Londsdale at its head. It has been in control of British boxing for more than two centuries. Nobility and even royalty comprise its patrons and members, and the championship belts put up by Lord Londsdale carried pensions with them under certain conditions. Purse were paid out of the club treasury. Peggy Bettinson was world-famous as the matchmaker for the organization. His son, Lionel Bettinson, is now in charge.

With the rise of promoters like that hustling American, Jeff Dickson, who used the vast Wembley stadium for his attractions, the fighters flocked to the big money and the sporting club lost its following of boxers, but not its prestige. Apparently the Lords and Honorables who compose its membership hope to regain control of boxing.

That it will prove successful is the hope of everyone who appreciates the value to any sport of control by an utterly uncommercialized and disinterested group. America is very sadly in need of such a body to control both its boxing and its wrestling.

The Case of Stribling.

BRONSON was asked to explain the case of Young Stribling, who is now attracting attention after several years of failure as a world title candidate.

"Stribling's case is peculiar," replied Jimmy. "He is not, as some persons seem to think, subject to nerves when the big shot comes up. It is not a kink in his nature that has handicapped him, but a mistake in his early development."

"Stribling comes of show people and his early boxing was something of a stunt. In the show business he needed his good looks and good appearance, and his father and mother, who trained him, stressed the necessity of protecting himself first and attacking afterwards. Boxing the 'manly art of self-defense' was a literal fact to Stribling. As a result he naturally went to cover when the going was hot."

"Today it is different. The family exchequer is lavishly bolstered with money and securities. The future has no terrors for the Striblings family and Willie can afford to take a chance. The title is the asset that he needs to round out his career. He has seen that the way to please the public is to carry the fight, not run from it, and his next big chance will doubtless show him in a different light."

"I talked to Stribling recently and what a fellow he is! He weighed 206 pounds in his street clothes and that means he is 196 pounds or so of real meat and muscle."

"Hit? That boy surely can punch. I think he has a splendid chance to beat anybody today and if he wins the championship from Schmeling he will be one of the finest chaps who ever held the title."

"Sharkey? He has changed, too. I figure. He has lived soft and has plenty of money. He's socially minded now. When they get their minds on something else than fighting it's usually the beginning of the end. It has made Sharkey temperamental, and that's not good for ring men."

"If they meet in Miami, I look for Stribling to show Sharkey an entirely different line of fighting assets."

Optimism Rampant.

PLANS of promoters for the fall and winter boxing season here indicate no fear of a dull campaign. It required considerable optimism to visualize a season of 12 shows at the Arena, with that $2500-a-night rental overhead, such as has been contemplated by one promotion group. An average house of $20,000 would be required merely to get by.

With rival promotion from the Coliseum, now contemplated, as well as from the smaller clubs and the amateurs, the Ganger of glutting the fight market is apparent.

The Coliseum officials are eager to have Tom Packs take over the operation of boxing there, as well as of wrestling. Manager Bates told the Post-Dispatch that a proposition was under consideration by Packs which involved a series of shows at the Coliseum.

With its smaller overhead and central location, the Coliseum seems a natural spot for all but major events in the local boxing world. The Arena last year reached capacity attendance of 18,500 on two occasions only.

A new ring lighting system and altered seating arrangements will make the Coliseum more up-to-date than heretofore, although it has always been considered a great arena for fights.

SHIKAT, FORMER MAT CHAMPION, OPPOSES DUSEK HERE, TONIGHT

Richard Shikat, once wrestling champion of the world—in Pennsylvania—and Rudy Dusek of Memphis, will clash tonight in the feature event of Tom Packs' outdoor wrestling show at the Battery A arena. The program consists of four numbers, which will show only heavyweights in action. The curtain-raiser starts at 8:30 o'clock. In Shikat fans will see a wrestler who, it is said, has lost but two matches in his career, both defeats having been administered by Jimmy London. However, Shikat also has beaten London and it was this victory that enabled Shikat to lay claim to the title, more than a year ago. Shikat was recognized as champion by the Pennsylvania Commission until last June 6, when London defeated him in a Philadelphia ring.

Dusek, in his two appearances here this summer, downed George

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM

The complete program for tonight's wrestling card at the Battery A outdoor arena follows:

MAIN MATCH—Richard Shikat, Hamburg, Germany, vs. Rudy Dusek, Memphis, Tenn. Shikat, 230; Dusek, 215; one fall to a finish.

SEMI-WINDUP—Ghafoor Khan of Kabul, Afghanistan, vs. John Spellman, Providence, R. I. Weights, Khan, 235; Spellman, 214; limited to one hour.

SECOND PRELIMINARY—Hans Steinko, Hamburg, Germany, vs. Jim Clinstock, Oklahoma City, Ok. Weights, Steinko, 250; Clinstock, 245. Limited to 45 minutes.

FIRST PRELIMINARY—Lloyd Burdick, Blue Mound, Ill., vs. Firpo Wilcox, Bixby, Ok. Weights, Burdick, 235; Wilcox, 225. Starting time—First match, 8:30 o'clock.

Hagen, former champion of the Marine Corps, after the Brooklyn grappler held him to a draw in their first meeting.

The second preliminary, limited to 45 minutes, will show the German giant, Hans Steinko, ponderous Hamburg wrestler, who has not been very active recently. Many of his rivals fear the bulky League.

German's exceptional strength and massive physique. Steinko faces another giant in the person of Jim Clinstock, whose matches here this summer elevated his stock considerably. He planned Fred Grobmeister, Dick Davis and Matrovs Korlenko in three elimination battles and suffered defeat in his match with London.

In the semi-windup, restricted to one hour, Ghafoor Khan, must-tackled champion of Afghanistan, tackles Johnny Spellman, rugged Providence (R. I.) grappler. Khan, who has won all his matches in the East, is determined to land a bout with London within the near future. Spellman, in his three tussles in the Battery ring, won over Narrenso Poggi of Italy, and drew and lost to Daviscourt in two entertaining matches.

Two former collegians, Firpo Wilcox of Oklahoma University and Lloyd Burdick of Illinois University, meet in the 30-minute curtain-raiser. Wilcox, a bulky Indian, is an experienced grappler, while the promising Burdick will be competing in his second professional bout. His first match under the big tent saw him down Paul Harper, a husky lad from Texas.

NEWFOUNDLAND MAY ATTEMPT TO SAVE CANADIAN LOTTERY

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Aug. 27.—The Army and Navy Veterans' Derby Sweepstakes, banned from Quebec by recent action of the Government, may be continued under the auspices of the Newfoundland War Veterans' Association.

A proposal to transfer the drawings here was approved almost unanimously at a public meeting last night. The lottery will be subject to the approval of the Newfoundland Government.

In this year's drawing on the Espeom Downs classic, Edward P. Dougherty, 19-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y. broker's clerk, won the first prize of $148,000. Quebec officials have forbidden lotteries because many bogus drawings sprang up after the publicity given to the Dougherty winning.

INQUEST IN KILLING OVER WOMAN PUT OFF

More Witnesses Sought in Shooting of B. S. Lingo by Frank Curtin.

The inquest into the killing of Benjamin S. Lingo, a claim agent for the Columbia Terminals Co., who was shot Monday night in a stable at 2324 McVair avenue in a fight with Frank Curtin, a peddler and his former friend, was postponed until tomorrow, to permit the calling of additional witnesses.

Curtin is at City Hospital in serious condition suffering with three bullet wounds. Blaming Lingo for the strangulation of his wife, Mrs. M. Curtin, the peddler has said he fired in self-defense after Lingo began shooting at him.

Anticipating attack, Lingo wrote a memorandum six weeks ago in which he related that Curtin had threatened his life and described Curtin in detail. Before he died, Lingo named Curtin as his slayer but it was not known that Curtin had been wounded until he surrendered to two detectives on the street at noon yesterday.

"I met Lingo on the street and reminded him that he owed me $112," Curtin said. "He told me to come over to the stable, where he kept some fighting dogs, and talk about it there. I was afraid of him, so I took my rifle along. When I walked in he pulled out a revolver and started to shoot. I fired back and he dropped."

Curtin, who is 61 years old, asserted that Lingo, 50, posed as

INQUEST IN KILLING OVER WOMAN PUT OFF

More Witnesses Sought in Shooting of B. S. Lingo
by Frank Curtin.

The inquest into the killing of Benjamin S. Lingo, a claim agent for the Columbia Terminals Co., who was shot Monday night in a stable at 2234 McNair avenue in a fight with Frank Curtin, a peddler and his former friend, was continued until tomorrow, to permit the calling of additional witnesses.

Curtin is at City Hospital in serious condition suffering from three bullet wounds. Blaming Lingo for the estrangement of his wife, Mrs. Mable Curtin, the peddler has said he fired in self-defense after Lingo began shooting at him.

Anticipating attack, Lingo wrote a memorandum six weeks ago in which he related that Curtin had threatened his life and described Curtin in detail. Before he died, Lingo named Curtin as his slayer but it was not known until he surrendered to two detectives on the street at noon yesterday.

"I met Lingo on the street and reminded him that he owed me $15," Curtin said. "He told me to come over to the stable, where he kept some fighting dogs, and talk about it there. I was afraid of him, so I took my rifle along.
When I walked in he pulled out a revolver and started to shoot. I fired back and he dropped."

Curtin, who is 61 years old, admitted that Lingo, 50, posed as his friend while alienating his wife's affections and urged him to shoot her in obtaining a divorce.

When he accused Lingo of furthering his own interests, Curtin said, Lingo threatened to shoot him. He denied he had ever threatened Lingo or his wife. For three weeks before his death, Lingo rented a room from Mrs. Curtin at 2423 Indiana avenue. Curtin lived at 1705 South Eleventh street.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS WARNING

Missouri Health Chief Sends Let-

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 27.—
Physicians throughout Missouri today received letters from Dr.
James Stewart, State Health Commissioner, warning them infantile paralysis is on the increase in the State and asking them to be on the alert against it.
Dr. Stewart said the State Health Department was concerned about the spread of the disease and pointed out it has been on the increase generally throughout the United States. Thirty cases have been reported in Missouri during August. Dr. Stewart advises physicians to report promptly to local county health officers any cases of infantile paralysis and said that if the Health Department "can be of service, please advise us."

MRS. BROOKS WINS OVER OPPOSITION OF MAYOR MILLER

Defeats Mrs. Nardin Who Sought Re-Election to State G. O. P. Committee From Tenth District.

FRED ESSEN LOSES CONTROL IN COUNTY

Recorder Schmid Becomes Dominant Factor—Eleventh District Democrats Against Prohibition.

Efforts of Mayor Miller to bring about the re-election of Mrs. William T. Nardin to the Republican State Committee from the Tenth Congressional District proved unsuccessful yesterday, when the district committee elected Mrs. Louis Brooks.

Politicians interpret the result as a challenge to the Mayor's power. It had appeared that he controlled a substantial majority of the Republican City Committee, but many of his adherents in that body failed to abide by his wishes in this contest. He had sent air mail letters to the members from his vacation place in Wisconsin, asking for votes for Mrs. Nardin. The Tenth District Committee includes 48 of the 56 members of the City Committee and the 10 members of the St. Louis County Committee. Mrs. Nardin's defeat was a surprise to many.

The election of the district's four members of the State Committee was also a factor in the county delegation, which county control passed from Fred Essen, county politician whose power has been waning recently for a number of years, to Recorder Schmid, who heads the county faction now. Essen was not a candidate for re-election to the State Committee, but he wanted F. William Antonelli, chairman of the County Committee, and Mrs. W. W. Benson, wife of County Collector, chosen from the party.

Hege Succeeds Essen.

Neither was nominated for these posts, but Mrs. Benson was made recorder of the congressional committee clearing the way for election of Miss May Gardner, a political ally of Essen, to the State Committee. Miss Gardner is clerk of the County Planning Board and the daughter of Associate County Judge Gardner. State Representative George Hege of Kirkwood was chosen to the State Committee.

Re-elected Essen, whom he has known for years, William H. Gilchrist, one of those speaking in her favor was Peter Anderson, who was a strong candidate for chairman of the City Committee. Until Miller's endorsement of the committee, Page's re-election caused Anderson to withdraw.

Both Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Nardin reside in the West End-Twentieth Ward. Mrs. Nardin being a committeewoman there. Mrs. Brooks is the mother of Director of Parks and Sewers Brooks, an appointee of the Mayor. In Miller's campaign Mrs. Brooks managed the women's work, but Mrs. Nardin did that in his last campaign. Mrs. Nardin has applied to succeed her political rival, Mrs. George Burlingham, as national committeewoman from Missouri, but Mrs. Brooks' election has been a setback to that ambition. Mrs. Brooks being a supporter of Mrs. Burlingham.

The Essen-Schmid Fight.

Essen appears to have influence over three of the 10 votes in the County Committee and Schmid over three. Essen is reported to have secured a trade of the county party votes for Mrs. Brooks in return for support of his candidacy. But the Schmid faction got out of this and by a vote of seven to three decided at a caucus on Monday on the unit rule for voting in the congressional meeting, giving 10 votes to Mrs. Nardin, but Mrs. Brooks was not done. Had this rule been followed, there might have been a tie between Mrs. Nardin and Mrs. Brooks. But it is understood that three "Essen votes" went to Mrs. Brooks, and so did two of the "Schmid votes." The ballot results showed that the three Essen followers may have refrained from voting for Hege.

Former Mayor Kiel was not a candidate for re-election to the County Committee from the Twelfth District. He is undergoing hospital treatment.

The Democratic County Committee made an unsuccessful effort to get county representation on the State Committee in the Tenth District.

The Eleventh District Democratic Committee adopted unanimously a resolution by State Senator Brogan, its chairman, opposing prohibition, but advocating temperance legislation.

ARGENTINE SAYS U. S. TARIFF BLOCKS TRADE RECIPROCITY

Delegate at International Meeting
Declares High Duties on Argentine Countries' Purchasing Power.

By the Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 27.—Mario Estrada, head of the Argentine delegation at the Pan-American reciprocal trade conference here, said yesterday the high tariff made trade reciprocity difficult and reduced purchasing power of other countries for consumption of United States goods.

Paul Clagstone of Washington, representing the United States Chamber of Commerce, defended the tariff on the ground that the flexible provision to withdraw, which Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Nardin reside in the West End-Twentieth Ward. Mrs. Nardin being a committeewoman there. Mrs. Brooks is the mother of Director of Parks and Sewers Brooks, an appointee of the Mayor. SEPTEMBER TERM TO SPEED COURTS' WORK PROPOSED

Judge Fitzsimmons Will Ask Bench to Seek Legislation Abolishing Present
October Term.

THINKS EARLY START WOULD BE HELPFUL

Present Vacation of More Than Three Months Agitated Against by Lawyers for Years.

Circuit Judge John T. Fitzsimmons said today that at the next annual judicial conference he would ask the Judges to recommend to the Legislature that the October term of the St. Louis Circuit Court be abolished. He would substitute in its place a term beginning the first Monday in September, which would run to the beginning of the December term.

Such a change, he thinks, would obviate much delay which has been experienced in the trial of civil lawsuits. It also would do away with the more than three months vacation of the courts, against which there has been considerable agitation for years among lawyers and litigants.

As a member of a committee of the Circuit Court to report upon the merits of reducing delays in reaching trial, Judge Fitzsimmons made some observations of conditions in other jurisdictions when he was attending the annual convention of the American Bar Association in Chicago last week. When asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter about the handling of trials elsewhere, Judge Fitzsimmons said:

"It appears to me that all the large cities are suffering from congestion of civil jury dockets and the consequent delay of parties getting to trial. I have also observed from conversations with lawyers and from examination of the printed rules of the courts in leading cities that the courts have made reforms in the last few years to remedy these conditions. But, although there is room for much improvement in St. Louis, which improvement should apply mark the opening of the new Civil Courts Building, there is a minor form of satisfaction in the fact that we are not so badly off as other cities.

Four Years Behind in Detroit.

"A Detroit lawyer, for instance, informed me that the court had amended the rules to hasten the day of trial because dockets were four years behind. After the new rules had been in effect for four years and seven months behind. Whether this unexpected aggravation of delay was on account of the new rules or in spite of them was not clear. But when the trial of cases is four years or even a much less period beyond the day of filing suit, the ancient truth that 'justice delayed is justice denied' is painfully applicable.

"The Circuit and Superior Courts of Cook County, Ill., have adopted two new rules which are intended to give every person an early day in the courts of Chicago. These rules will into effect next month and their operation will be watched with interest.

"In the Chicago court rules I observed one thing which is worthy of the notice of all those who are concerned with the work of the courts. The fall term of the Circuit and Superior Courts in Chicago begins on the first Monday in September. The fall term of our Circuit Court begins on the first Monday in October. Our terms of court are fixed by statute.

"It is my belief that court work in St. Louis could be expedited if the Legislature would take action.

gress Working Commit-clared Unlawful, Held.

V. J. PATEL ONE OF THOSE TAKEN

He Resigned Presidency of Legislative Assembly to Take Part in Indian Civil Disobedience Campaign.

By the Associated Press.

DELHI, India, Aug. 27.—Virtually the entire Working Committee of the All-India National Congress was arrested here today. Those taken into custody included V. J. Patel, who resigned as president of the legislative assembly to participate in the civil disobedience campaign.

It was announced yesterday that, although the Working Committee had been proclaimed an unlawful assembly, the body had decided to meet in Delhi today.

Several prominent Nationalists, including Patel, Pandit Malviya and Miss N. Mehta, daughter of Sir Manubhai Mehta, arrived yesterday for the meeting.

It was officially announced that the six members of the committee arrested were Malaviya, Patel, Mangal Singh, Deepnarayan Singh, B. C. Roy and Madrasa Tricunji. Dr. Ansari, president of the Congress, and Rajarao, permanent undersecretary of the Congress, also were arrested. The two women members present were not taken into custody.

Viceroy Has Three-Hour Confer- ence With Mediators.

By the Associated Press.

SIMLA, Aug. 27.—In the attempt to reach an understanding between British authorities in India and Mahatma Gandhi's followers, Viceroy Lord Irwin and Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, president of the Congress, and other leaders of the civil disobedience movement, have had an important conference. They were closeted for three hours and will continue negotiations. It is understood a formula is being worked out.

Frequent communications have passed between Simla and London. The Mahatma and Pandit Motilal and Jawaharlal Nehru will probably arrive here to be consulted before any announcement is made.

Fifteen leaders of the All-India National Congress have been arrested for forming a procession in celebration of the Indian National flag day. Each was sentenced to four months' rigorous imprisonment. Police charged the crowd accompanying them several times with their staves. Several persons were injured.

Sir John Simon in U. S.; Ex- presses Hope of Settlement.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Sir John A. Simon, head of Great Britain's India Statutory Commission, expressed hope here today for "some way of advance" on the Indian problem. He asked for American sympathy "in keeping with America's sense of fair play."

Sir John, one of England's leading Liberals, in Washington as one of a party of guests of the American Bar Association, discussed "the enormous task" in India.

"There is no division of opinion in England on our policy in India," he said. "It is as stated in the law of 1919, the gradual development of self-governing institutions with a view to the progressive realization of responsible government in India."

LORD BEAVERBROOK ILL WITH FOOD POISONING

British Publisher Taken From His Yacht for Treatment at Dover, England.

DOVER, England, Aug. 27.—Lord Beaverbrook, proprietor of the London Daily Express and father of the Empire free trade movement, became ill aboard his yacht today. The yacht put in here, where the publisher could receive treatment. He was said to be suffering from food poisoning.

Lord Beaverbrook has become almost over night one of the most forceful and picturesque figures of British politics. He has been engaged the past few months in a persistent and energetic campaign against the Conservative organization headed by Stanley Baldwin because of their reluctance to come out for imposition of food taxes as part of a scheme of free trade within the British Empire and customs taxes against the rest of the world.

He has been able to reach an immense audience with his propaganda through the huge circulations of the Daily Express, the Sunday Express, the Evening Standard and a string of provincial papers, while his force of character and able personal intervention in various bye-election campaigns have been no small factor in pushing his cause forward.

NEW FRENCH WARSHIP CRASHES THROUGH WAYS AT LAUNCHING

Torpedo Boat Lying Partly in Water; Several Persons Slightly Hurled.

By the Associated Press.

HAVRE, France, Aug. 27.—One of the finest new warships of the modernized French fleet, the 400-foot torpedo boat Vautour, was damaged yesterday as it was being launched.

A disaster was narrowly averted among the crowd of spectators, scrambling out of the way of the 2450 tons of runaway steel. Several persons were injured, though not seriously.

The accident was caused by the collapse of the ways. The Vautour slipped and pivoted 200 feet down and finally slid partly into the water.

Workmen are busy stabilizing the ship so as to relieve the strain on its hull. It is lying at an angle of about 45 degrees, its stern resting in shallow water and its bow perched on the ways. The ship now cannot be launched until the flood tides in September.

The deep sea submarine Meduse was successfully launched about the same time.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Firing by Chinese Communists on foreign ships 40 miles above Kiukiang was reported to the State Department today by U. S. Consul General Frank B. Lockhart at Hankow.

The Communists are quartered on the hillside above Kiukiang and are firing on foreign vessels with field pieces, the Consul reported. Lockhart said one shell, which missed its target, was fired at close range at a British battleship on which he was traveling at 2 a. m. Aug. 24. He said Japanese and other vessels had been fired upon at the same point.

As a precautionary measure some foreign women and children have been evacuated to ships in Changsha harbor, although the city was quiet up to the night of Aug. 25, the message stated.

The navy said its river gunboat Panay was one of the vessels fired on by field guns about 15 miles from Wusueh yesterday. The Panay returned the fire and silenced it. No casualties were suffered aboard the Panay and no hits were made in the ship. The Panay is attached to the United States Yangtze River patrol.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy, or predatory poverty.

The name and address of the author must accompany every contribution, but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 200 words will receive preference.

From an Ex-Republican.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I AM a farmer and have voted the Republican ticket for 50 years. The party's principles were good when we needed a high tariff, as McKinley said, to protect labor. Then labor was low in this country and needed protection; but now organized labor is too high compared to everything else and needs no protection. What we need is help for the farmer. When he is prospering, everybody prospers, but how are we going to get help? Not from the Republican party, for we have tried it long enough and see that its promises are only to get votes. It has got the last vote it will ever get from me. All it does is fool the people by appointing a Farm Board to do nothing but draw their salaries. I see they are going to lend the farmer some money—a poor policy. The farmer doesn't want to get in debt; he wants to get out of debt. And how many farmers can borrow money from the Government? Just a very few, as the ones that need help most have no security whatever to borrow money on. What the farmer needs is a market for his products. The only way for him to get it is for Congress to fix a standing price on everything that changes hands and stop profiteering. Unless the Government does fix prices, just a few men will own this country in a short time. Mr. Coolidge said it would bankrupt the Government to go into price-fixing. It will not if they go at it the right way. Holland, Mo. W. F. CECIL.

Liability Insurance and Accidents.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE letter published Aug. 22, written by "Another Tory," probably would have been passed over without thought except for the last sentence, "The day will come when the automobile will be taken from the masses, just as liquor has been." Has this been done? If so, we would like to know where. While insurance is a great thing, it is far-fetched for anyone to believe that passing a law whereby all automobile drivers must have full coverage will reduce automobile accidents. It is only human nature to be careless knowing that someone else has to stand all bills due to their recklessness. H. M. F.

Law Enforcement and Prisons.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE point of view in your editorial of Aug. 19, "The Great American Crime Factory," is a bit biased. That the prisons and jails are overcrowded by the increasing inflow of liquor and narcotic violators is only natural considering the grand scale violation of the Federal prohibition law by the Government to give stricter enforcement of its laws, is to increase its imprisonments in proportion to the increase in the number of violations. The criticism logically, therefore, lies not in crowding the prisons, but rather in the lauded practice of law-breaking, which has become the great American indoor, as well as outdoor, sport. The conclusion drawn in the editorial—that the dry and narcotic laws, the Dyer and Mann acts are criminal—is thoughtless. Would a repeal of these laws lessen the evil conditions which they attempt to correct? Or would law-breaking become the only admitted rival of miniature golf courses? The great American crime factory seems to lie not in attempted social legislation (of which there is not yet enough), but rather in the newspapers and magazines which sponsor such empty terms as individual freedom, State's rights and the idealistic Jeffersonian slogan, "Government is an evil." We fail to understand that complete freedom will remedy the situation. It is just this empty dream that causes men to violate laws. EDA HOUWINK.

Mr. Gerard's 64 "Rulers."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

MR. GERARD'S 64 "rulers" of America make good Cicero's claim that "we must assent to what a few men say," as well as the contention of Lord Bryce that "but one form of government has existed from the first—the rule of the few." Whom these "Divine Right Bae" wrote: The rights and interests of the laboring man will be protected by the Christian men to whom God, in his infinite wisdom, has given control of the property interests of the country. Still there may have been some mistake in picking some of the men on this list who have figured recently in the newspapers. Maybe Mr. Gerard failed to get first-hand information. He might make another hasty amendment to delete some, and add some church heads, as it does not seem reasonable that Mr. Gerard should be the sole representative of government, and religion should not be represented at all in a list of God's chosen men. Nor that the trader should be the sole ruler in civilization. EUGENE DAVIS.

COWARDICE IN ILLINOIS.

If courage is the secret of freedom, the people of Illinois will never be freed from the tyranny of the Anti-Saloon League either by the Republican party or the Republican press.

It is fair to assume that to get rid of the stringent dry laws in Illinois and put the State on record for repeal of the eighteenth amendment is more important than the immediate fortunes of either of the great parties; but one would not think so if there were no better index to political and social values in Illinois than the sophistries of the Republican State platform and its candidate for the United States Senate or the antics of party journals like the Chicago Tribune. We had hoped to see both parties turn upon their tormentors in Illinois, as both parties have done in New Jersey and the State of Washington. We were hardly prepared to see newspapers like the Chicago Tribune, which are just as well aware as we are of the plight of Illinois, abjectly accept either Mrs. McCormick or the Republican State platform upon anything less than an outright declaration against prohibition.

Yet that is precisely what they are doing, notwithstanding Col. Lewis and the Democratic party have both come out flatly against prohibition. The Tribune complaisantly biterly of the State being in the clutches of the Anti-Saloon League, and it expresses the conviction that even to have gone so far as Mrs. McCormick and the Springfield platform did go is to be regarded as a partial declaration of freedom. Nevertheless, it is still in the party fold, and the bloody oath it took some time ago never to support another dry candidate for office is forsaken in the disgraceful policy of putting the whole difficult and troublesome question up to the people under the referendum. Nothing could be milder than the Tribune's comparison of the Democratic and Republican positions, which follows:

The Democratic State party has taken a position of unqualified opposition to prohibition, thus advocating repeal and taking leadership for it. The Republicans will await popular instructions and follow them. The opposition to prohibition in the party had to compromise with the dry rural element, but it is a compromise which is a decided success against dry coercion in Republican councils. This is the first party decision on prohibition which has not been dictated by the Anti-Saloon League and wholly acceptable to it.

That is not, we respectfully submit, the act of either a courageous party or a courageous press. It is not the way any battle is won. The people of Illinois need the party and press to rally them out of their ignoble servitude to the Anti-Saloon League. They need the party and press to arouse them to a realization that they have bartered their liberties away for a mythical bauble. It would be a proper rebuke to such cowardice if the people accepted the leadership of Col. Lewis and the Democrats. Perhaps, if that is the consequence of the disgraceful situation in Illinois, the Republican party and the Tribune will learn the difference between positive leadership and that receptive cowardice in which the party, its candidates and its press await the revolt of a bedeviled people.

THE TAPPING OF FLETCHER.

Though he went to Pennsylvania for the chairman of his tariff commission Mr. Hoover did not select Mr. Grundy; instead he walked right past jolly "Old Joe" and tapped Mr. Fletcher. And if the publicity man for the Democratic National Committee were a genial, generous and lofty soul, with no partisan microbes gnawing at his vitals, he would have tuned up his ukelele and chanted Mr. Hoover's dashing gallantry in a lyric, or a ballad, or a rollicking ode.

THE MAN OF A THOUSAND FACES.

Lon Chaney's field was his own. He made it himself. Entering motion pictures by way of one-night stand road shows, he saw an opportunity for specializing in unusual roles and threw himself into it heart and soul. In the history of the screen no man played so many bizarre parts. Soon a master of makeup, he was already a master of pantomime for he learned it in the surest school—a home whose mother and father were deaf. He could talk silently with gestures and expressions long before he thought of becoming so much as a prop boy. His utter disregard for himself was what made him the movies' greatest character actor. Beginning with "The Frog" in "The Miracle Man," his parts cast him for all sorts of strenuous disguises and physical discomfort. There was Quasimodo, the hunchback of Notre Dame, Singapore Joe with the colloid bleached eye, the armless wonder of "The Unknown," Eric of the opera, the legless villain in "The Penalty," the vampire with the distended eyes in "London After Midnight"—all characters which stand out against numberless thousands because of their uniqueness. He liked far-off places and made picture tours of Mandanay and west of Zanzibar and Mr. Wu. He was fascinated by the distorted souls of the underworld who work while the city sleeps. Railroad men were thrilled by his old engineer in "Thunder." Marines found his hard-boiled sergeant life itself. It was while riding in a locomotive cab with windows open in a snow storm that he contracted the illness which resulted in pneumonia, anemia and the futile blood transfusions.

Lon Chaney's work was his life—and his death.

VIOLENCE AND THE CONSTITUTION.

The American Vigilant Intelligence Federation of Chicago has asked Secretary of State William J. Stratton of Illinois to exclude the Communist party from a place on the November election ballot. One of the reasons advanced is that the Communist party of the State exists in violation of the State law which prohibits the organization of any group to overthrow the present form of government by force or by any other unlawful means.

It seems rather obvious to the onlooker neither heated by prejudice nor frightened by alarmist phrases that, in the very act of applying for a place on the ballot, the Illinois Communists, at least in this instance, are forsaking the method of force and taking up the method and means provided by our Federal and State Constitutions for redress of grievances and the selection of officials to operate the Government. If Communists, or members of any other party, are not permitted the use of the ballot as the expression of their political desires, what, in heaven's name, is left for them to use but force?

We sincerely hope that the Judge who decides this ballot controversy, if the "Vigilant Intelligence" people persist in pressing the issue, will consider rights more fundamental in our Constitution than State anti-Communist laws which, for the most part, were proposed and passed in the era of anti-radical hysteria following the war. Far more dangerous than a handful of Communists exercising the rights of citizens under the Constitution is any group which is literally forced into violence by the denial of those rights.

TO SOUTH AMERICA BY AIR.

An event destined to have profound historical significance is the establishment of air mail and transport lines between North and South America. Because the only way in the past of communicating with Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro has been the comparatively slow steamship, the new airways annihilate distance in a truly spectacular fashion. By ship 18 days is required for a letter to travel from the United States to Buenos Aires; now it can be dispatched in seven over the lines of Pan-American Airways. The saving in time to intermediate points is correspondingly great. It is more than a figure of speech to say that South America in 1930 is a thousand miles closer to the United States than it was even 10 years ago.

We have before us a map of Pan-American Airways showing the newly-organized network connecting the two continents. From Brownsville one may fly through Mexico to San Jeronimo on the Pacific, thence through the heart of Central America to Cristobal in Panama. There is met another line extending from Miami, through Havana, which jumps the Caribbean to skirt the east coast of Central America. From Cristobal, two tremendous lines go south, one down the west coast through Lima, Antofagasta and Santiago to Buenos Aires; the other through Curacao, Paramaribo and Pernambuco to Rio de Janeiro. There is also a line from Havana which touches the numerous isles of the West Indies and connects with the Rio de Janeiro line at Trinidad.

Except for the southernmost tip, South America is stridged by airways, and air connections in the United States make it possible for a person, say in Great Falls, Montana, to make a continuous air voyage to Buenos Aires. The Andes, now an impenetrable wall shutting off Chile, Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador from the remainder of South America, will in due time be hurdled by the plane, as well as the immense jungles of the Amazon which now separate the Atlantic coast cities from the headwaters of the Paraguay. South America, halved and quartered by physical obstacles which have defied engineers and awed financiers, has in the airplane the opportunity to become at last a single continent.

The criss-crossing of South America with air lines, however, awaits the success of the two great coastal paths. That these will in time become as familiar to North America as the steamship lanes connecting North America with Europe, it is difficult to doubt. The airways are the pioneers of a new era between the two continents. Trade, of course, will follow; likewise the exchange of ideas and cultures and the establishment of new sympathies and friendships.

THE FATE OF DESPOTS.

For many years rumors have trickled in from Peru relating to what was said to be the one-man rule of that country, with its president, Augusto Leguia, at the reins and enjoying what practically amounted to a dictatorship. Now the explosion has come and Leguia, the autocrat, is not only deposed but threatened by trial for the misuse of his power. The wisdom of the provisional government's insistence that Leguia be brought back to Lima, instead of being permitted to go into voluntary exile as he wishes, may be questioned. The provisional government itself is threatened by another faction in the Southern provinces, where the revolt started. Furthermore, it is to Peru's advantage to be rid of its despotic rather than to punish him, for while he is in Lima certain of his followers are sure to keep his flame burning, if ever so dimly.

But whether the former President stands trial or not, the fundamental fact at this stage in his career does not change. He was a despot and he was deposed. That is the fate of despots.

THOSE FLYING HALALIPS.

As St. Louis showers bouquets on citizen Jimmy Halalip for averaging 183.3 miles an hour over the 30-mile course to win the first event at the national air races, it should not forget to send at least one to Mrs. Jimmy, who less than a week ago was discharged from a hospital in Greenwood, S. C., still bearing some of the marks of an airplane crash-up which occurred when she lost her way and tried to land in a cotton field. A wheel on the landing gear broke as she came down and the plane nosed over. She got out of the plane unaided and then collapsed, remaining unconscious for several hours. At the time she was on her way to Washington to enter the Dixie Derby to Chicago, where Mr. Jimmy had said he would take part in the competition for planes with 1000 cubic inch displacement.

The records describe Mrs. Halalip as a veteran woman pilot since she has been flying for five years. She, however, dates back her interest in air flights considerably farther than that—to her seventh year when she jumped off the roof of the parental home in Greenville, Mo., with her mother's umbrella. She landed with a thud in a pile of hay, but as she says "it didn't take away the desire to fly." This summer while her husband flew around for an oil company, she conducted a class for would-be women flyers at the Von Hoffmann school.

THE FRIEND WHO LENDS.

Arthur M. Hyde is Secretary of Agriculture. He is a member of the Federal Farm Board. He is a citizen of Trenton, Mo. As such he recently suggested to President Hoover the formation of county credit associations through which drought-stricken farmers could borrow money from intermediate credit banks. Now comes the report of the organization of the North Missouri Credit Association at Trenton, with Mr. Hyde as one of the principal stockholders and with an officer of the Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Louis sitting in to see that the enterprise is properly started.

Mr. Hyde is practicing what he preaches. He is putting into effect the plan he proposed. Good wishes are, we believe, in order. Here's success, then, to the North Missouri Agricultural Credit Association! Here's success to the Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Louis! Here's success to the farmer! And here's success to Arthur M. Hyde, who is going to lend the farmer money.

Notwithstanding all his titles and offices, room may be found, we hope, to confer another degree on Mr. Hyde, namely, the friend who lends.

First 10 Years of the New Poland

People have shown moderation in breaking up large estates; lesser gentry replace discredited aristocracy in Government; constitutional reforms now sought include strengthening of executive; better economic relations with Germany needed; people view Pilsudski as a wise dictator, trying to develop the new democracy.

Charlotte Kellogg in the Atlantic Monthly.

IN Poland, a democracy of 23,000,000 inhabitants, some 19,000 persons owned 45 per cent of all privately held farm land in the country. Reapportionment was thus inescapable. From the immense properties down were all sizes, until one reached that third of the agricultural population which had barely enough land to support itself, and, still further below, that other third of the workers who owned nothing.

So, during the first 10 years of its existence, the Polish Parliament has been intensely occupied with the agrarian reform program, which, by the end of the first half of the decade, was expressed in acts that have been progressively operative. But scarcely with the consent of the land magnates! Though many of them, financially embarrassed, have been glad to part with certain portions of their holdings. The Polish people, whose historical record is one of tolerance and patience, are proud of the moderation of this land readjustment program, holding it generous in time and remuneration, not so extreme in the ordained degree of division as are the programs in neighboring countries, and yet carrying opportunities due the new citizen.

As one studies the successes and failure of the reform, he is impressed, not so much with the reactionary attitude of the great proprietors, as with the reasonableness of the whole people. Last week, in the country, I sat in a century-old library where Emerson and Whitman are as much at home as Mickiewicz and Sienkiewicz, and where Poland's past speaks from marvelous portraits. And that evening it spoke through Chopin, as hour after hour a protégé of Paderewski sat at the piano.

There is that sadness in the air, inevitably incident to change, but the mood of Poland is not one of morbid regret over the passing of the old order—it is one of healthy joy over the coming of the new. The rest of Poland claims that as a group its cultivated aristocracy have failed to give energetic co-operation in the founding of the democracy.

No; the Government is being shaped not by the aristocracy, but by the classes socially below them, by the lesser gentry, by intellectuals of that and of peasant stock. The extreme of abolishing the opposition; his dictatorship is restrained and objective. There are daily attacks upon him, written and spoken; for Poland enjoys complete freedom of the press and of speech. While one group charges him with advocating the strengthening of the executive in the hope that he himself may become that more powerful executive, another complains of his lack of courage, of his failure to put forward with sufficient vigor a clear-cut program.

But the majority see him as the lover of and protector of the democracy, wise enough to let it pursue its normal development, except when, in his judgment, its very existence seems threatened. In the meantime, his transcendent personal power continues—a power resting on that of the army and the people.

The prevailing belief is that both these imperatively necessary reforms will be effected. The question is, When? The persistent hope is, Soon. Those who understand the job the new democracy faced—and it has just celebrated its tenth birthday—are not discouraged. It had to establish a state mechanism and to reconstitute an economic organism broken into three parts—to bring unity out of long-separated Poles, Galicians and Congress Poland. And this was especially difficult because the war here lasted two years longer than elsewhere.

Through all the tangle and difficulty of international adjustment, Poland leans on her historic friendship with France, on her warm, centuries-old friendship with Hungary, on her friendly relations with Turkey. But chiefly is she happy in her friendship with the United States. The names of President Wilson and of President Hoover are revered and loved.

There are two. First, the purely political one of the reform of the Constitution, which, modeled on the French Constitution, has, after a decade's trial, been found seriously wanting, chiefly because of the weakness of the executive branch of the Government. And second, a many-sided economic problem, which, expressed in limited and immediate terms, is the necessity of improved commercial arrangements with Germany. How many constitutional reforms are asked for? "As many," the cynic replies. "As there are inhabitants in Poland." Just as he will tell you, if you question which, numerically, is the strongest political party, that it is the one which does not vote.

By strengthening the weak executive arm, it is believed that the most serious present difficulties would be overcome and the Government's power to expedite public business would be assured. As it is, in the course of the last three years of discussion of constitutional reform, such practice as presidential legislation by decree in urgent administrative matters, and automatic operation of the old budget, if the Parliament fails to pass the new one in time, have, under the pressure of necessity, become customary law. We may be able to afford the luxury of the inefficiency of democratic institutions; Poland cannot!

Pilsudski has rarely gone to the extreme of abolishing the opposition; his dictatorship is restrained and objective. There are daily attacks upon him, written and spoken; for Poland enjoys complete freedom of the press and of speech. While one group charges him with advocating the strengthening of the executive in the hope that he himself may become that more powerful executive, another complains of his lack of courage, of his failure to put forward with sufficient vigor a clear-cut program.

But the majority see him as the lover of and protector of the democracy, wise enough to let it pursue its normal development, except when, in his judgment, its very existence seems threatened. In the meantime, his transcendent personal power continues—a power resting on that of the army and the people.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.

THAT good-natured Hoosier Congressman—Louis Ludlow of Indiana—who came to be the first newspaper man in the history of this country to go directly from the press gallery to a seat in Congress, apparently scored a clean "beat" on the drouth question.

Although representing a strictly urban district in Congress, it was Ludlow who first aided in setting up machinery in Washington for the relief of those hardest hit by the long drouth. He went about it in much the same fashion that he did while trailing a news story in the days before he came to Congress.

On Thursday morning, Aug. 7, Louis arrived at his office on the hill to find a telegram from the president of the Indiana Farm Bureau urging him to use his influence with the heads of the three big roads which operate in his state toward reducing freight rates on farm produce badly needed in the stricken area.

Within an hour or so the Hoosier Representative was at the Interstate Commerce Commission. There he was told that while the commission had no authority to order such a reduction in rates, it was sympathetic and if he could persuade the railroads to act, the commission would remove all technical restrictions.

So Louis got busy. He remembered that he had seen two high officials of one of the roads in the building a few minutes before. These he located and outlined to them what he wanted. They were persuaded to get in telegraphic communication with the president of the road immediately.

Then Louis started out to communicate with the presidents of the other two roads. So successful was he that before the day drew to a close he had assurance from the railroads that the rates to the drouth stricken area of Indiana would be cut in half.

The president of the third road could not be located, but assurance was given by the company that it would co-operate in every way possible.

The next morning the absent president was found and he readily agreed to the reduction.

So, within 24 hours from the time he received the first call of distress, Louis was able to report to the drouth sufferers that they could buy hay in Kansas and ship it in at exactly half the usual cost.

But the Hoosier Congressman didn't stop there. He got a list of all the railroads operating in that section—large and small—and bombarded them with requests that they take the same step as that taken by the three big carriers.

He sent out 11 such telegrams. Before midnight of Aug. 8 he had received 10 replies. No. 11 railroad was in the hands of a receiver and no one had the authority to speak for it.

The next day—Saturday, Aug. 9—President Hoover called his Governor's assistance in Washington.

A MODERN DRAWBACK.

Outlawry Along the Natchez Trace

THE OUTLAW YEARS. By Robert M. Coates. (The Macaulay Co., New York City, 12.)

THE outlaw years that Robert M. Coates here tells about were the years of the early eighteen hundreds, when outlawry was rife along the Natchez Trace, the pioneer trail that threaded the wilderness between the trading posts of Nashville and Natchez. Not that outlawry passed with the passing of the outlaws of the Natchez Trace, because outlawry has been a fairly persistent enterprise from those years to these and in some respects is more prevalent now than then, but there was something distinctive about the bad men who lurked along the lonely trace, robbing and killing, vanishing into the forest and bringing such terror that their names were spoken in whispers, casting their sinister shadows across the scene. U. S. GUNBOAT RETURNS FIRE OF CHINESE REDS

A majority of the foreigners had departed, however. The intentions of the Reds remained obscure. The Changsha military garrison constructed stronger defenses to cope with a possible attack. Many river boats were commandeered for use in the event a hurried evacuation became necessary. The city was quiet but tense. The ravages of the Communists, who sacked and burned part of the city more than a month ago, were still in the minds of foreigners. Hoping to prevent a repetition of the sacking, President Chiang Kai-shek has ordered 20,000 troops detached from his army in Shantung Province, where Government troops are attempting to suppress a Northern revolt, and sent to Hunan Province to punish the Reds. Because of low water in the river at Changsha, foreign gunboats which recently figured in exchanges for red troops, were unable to get near enough to the city to be effective. After the recent attack on the capital most of the foreigners fled to Hankow, but some returned, feeling there would be no more trouble. The Reds killed many Chinese and took prisoners for ransom many others. When the provincial troops retook the place they executed communist leaders.

Charles Fulton, Negro yardman employed by Mrs. Genevieve W. Bartlett, 53 Westmoreland place, was arrested yesterday on complaint of his employer. Two warrants charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses were obtained by police. Fulton admitted, police said, that he raised 14 pay checks $10 each, his practice not being discovered until checks covering his pay for several months were examined.

SEPTEMBER TERM TO SPEED COURTS' WORK PROPOSED

The Legislature, which meets next year, would amend the statutes so as to change our October term to a September term. Lawyers and citizens generally have often asked, with much reason, why do not our courts begin active trial work of civil jury cases in September? The climatic and other physical comfort objections have been removed in the new Civil Courts Building. The artificially cooled courtrooms, as I found during this summer, are as comfortable as the most modern motion picture theater. And as the cooling effect can only be had when all doors and windows are closed, the old objection that disturbing noises come in through the open windows no longer obtains.

A Hampering Statute.

"But the October term is still somewhat of an obstacle to the beginning of trial work in earnest in September. The principal reason is that, by long practice, no cases of any kind are tried during the last week of each of the five terms of our Court. If cases were tried during that week, a losing party might be handicapped in filing his motion for a new trial, which is essential to appeal. A motion for a new trial must be filed within four days after judgment if the term shall so long continue, and, if not, then before the end of the term. This is statutory. If a case were tried during the last week of a term and was finished on Friday or Saturday a losing party would have to file his motion for a new trial almost immediately.

"Another objection to trials during the last week of a term is that a trial must be completed during the term. And I have observed that, even before the last week of a term, but at its approach, there is a gradual easing up in the speed of the courts. If we were to begin jury trials in September under the law as at present, the work would be done half heartedly because the week's interval at the end of the month would be in the minds of court officials and lawyers.

Points to Country's Example.

"But if we had a September term, instead of an October term, we would get under way the first Monday in September, and we would do effective trial work continuously until the week before the December term. If anyone should say that this reform is but trifling, I would answer that, in business and industry the difference between profit and loss, between large and small production is marked by the elimination of lost motion and unnecessary delays, however small. "I might also answer that the Circuit Court of St. Louis County begins active fall work on Sept. 15, this year, because, by statute, its term begins on that day. And the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis in its study of possible reforms, may, without loss of pride, take serious notice of the rules and of the work of the Circuit Court of St. Louis County.

"These are other points of possible reform even under our present statutes and rules. But it would be indiscreet for me to mention them before they are submitted to the committee."

Judge Fitzsimmons will act as summer Judge in the Civil Courts Building during September. He will assume these duties Friday, and will sit in Division One, which is the assignment room, and in Divisions Two and Three, which are the equity rooms. Judge Sprague has been presiding this month.

GANDHI LEADERS SEIZED IN DELHI BEFORE MEETING

John said, are that the vast mass of Indians are villagers, with customs entirely different from those of "the educated, political minority," and that India is composed of "so many mixed elements that America's mixture is the palest reflection."

Ultimate solution of the problem, Sir John believes, "will not be a mere imitation of the representative government British and Americans have set for themselves." He declared an effort to transplant such a government to India would be "planting a seed in soil that does not grow the tree."

COMPLAINTS AGAINST REPAVING WORK OF STREET CAR COMPANY

The Public Service Co. lately has not been as prompt as formerly in replacing poor pavement on its tracks upon notice from the city. Street Commissioner Slater said today. He will confer with General Manager Greenland of the company this week in an effort to improve the situation. Frequently patches are put in, instead of new work, Slater added.

An ordinance provides that the company must install paving on its tracks as good or better than the rest of the street, upon notice from the Street Commissioner. The company has been seeking to avoid heavy expenses for repaving, especially where the city has been undertaking large general improvements, like street widening. It has been the custom generally to use smooth granite blocks between the rails, but the company now wants to adopt asphalt, which is cheaper. Slater has no general objection to this change.

The city has had complaints about rough track paving in Kingshighway between Southwest avenue and Arsenal street; on the Twelfth street viaduct and on the south end of the Jefferson avenue viaduct.

TON AT NEW YORK CLOSES STEADY AFTER EARLY RISE

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—An early rise in cotton futures, which carried the price of new crop contracts up to 11.75c, or 13c higher than the previous day, was combined with some local Southern cotton here today. Reaction followed which carried the December contract down to 11.45c, or 15 points net lower, but the market became comparatively quiet at the end of the day. The market was not so much covered as it was on the previous day. The futures closed steady, 5 points lower than the previous day. The market was very active with new October selling from 11.40 to 11.50c, and the market advanced to 11.50c, making the market about 3 to 10 points net higher. There was some selling of new crop against purchases of later dates, believed to be for European accounts, and the advance seemed to bring little more Southern selling, but prices within 3 or 4 points of the level at the end of the first half hour. There seemed to be considerable covering as to the probable showing of the weather report, and this may have kept some further covering of short units. Liverpool reported rain and some in that market, but prices there did not rise after the local opening. The market eased later in the morning, selling which seemed to be induced by a favorable view of the weather report and expectations that the conditions now prevailing in the world would lead to increasing exports, possibly heavier holding within the few days. A new October sold off to 11.35c and to 11.77, making net declines of 8 points and reactions of about 20 points from the high prices of the day. The market at midday was lower, but ruled within a point or two of the close.

THE WAY A WOMAN

By Marguerite M. Marshall

Clothes and the Man

WHEN the fashion reporters describe wedding, the man's clothes never get an even break. Equal rights for both sexes, say we. Therefore, after writing repeatedly about "clothes and the woman," wherein we tried to give you a news resume of the present and immediate future of what women will wear, we set to work to compose a column about "clothes and the man."

Here's the newest note in masculine wearing apparel: Surveyors and engineers employed by the Westchester County Park Commission appeared on their field of operations wearing shorts during last week's hot spell. Soon after the engineers set the fashion, officials of the Park Commission reported that common laborers procured knives and shears and cut off the lower ends of their long pants.

Three rousing cheers. This is the most inspiring and intelligent news of man's mode of dress we have encountered since last spring, when the boys at half a dozen colleges made an abortive attempt to popularize shorts. Practically all the rest of their sex messaged at them and shivered to the depth of their conventional souls at the idea.

"New York men," smugly insisted New York clothiers and tailors, "are cold to the suggestion of wearing shorts." Undoubtedly, in May. But how New York men can have preserved even a metaphorical chill during this summer of record-breaking heat, is beyond our understanding.

For no woman can write, in August, of men's clothes without pointing out, if for the thousandth time, how perfectly terrible they are, from the standpoint of health, comfort and looks. Yet we have said this before, but we doubtless shall say it again. It seems to us that the hypothetical visitor from Mars, condemned for his sins, to ride the subway in August, would imagine himself surrounded by two different races, so vast is the difference between the hot weather costumes of men and women.

The latter wear a pound or two of silk, with thin slippers and light hair, with bare necks and arms, with almost bare shins. Men go swathed from throat to wrist to ankle, tightly gripped about the waist, heavily shod. Some wear knickerbockers, with the top of woolen socks which would have kept Eeyore comfortable in Little America. Some wear vests. Some wear collars that are stiffly starched as well as high and tight. Truly, as Richard Savage, one candid spokesman for his sex, writes us:

"Men are weak fools and slaves to fashion, or we would not wear the clothes we do in summer."

There was an effort, a year ago, to popularize pajamas for men in warm weather. It failed, and its success would not, we think, have worked much improvement in comfort. Pajama pants are too tight, too long—therefore, too hot.

The blouse brigade tried to start a new fashion for men about three weeks ago. All of 18 valiant males marched across Fifth-ninth street and down Fifth avenue, wearing blouses in place of coat, vest, shirt and belt. It was a perfectly sound innovation and it sunk without a trace. That was that.

Cabled dispatches from England report a sporadic effort to popularize shorts over there, dampened (literally) by the Irish showers of the well-known British climate.

Also (again, therefore, too hot) excited foreign correspondents have informed us that the Prince of Wales is appearing in public this summer minus a vest and minus braces, or suspenders. We always have felt that young man had points about him!

The last kick in the sartorial news for the sterner sex is the agitation started in Washington for be-pew-dil uniforms for our diplomats—planned hats 'n' swords 'n' everything—in place of the mangle monotony of conventional full dress. This projected reform seems to us a perfectly grand idea. But why limit it to diplomats? Why should not other men wear really magnificent and varied colors, cuts and materials, at least for evening dress. The projected reform seems to us a perfectly grand idea. But why limit it to diplomats? Why should not other men wear really magnificent and varied colors, cuts and materials, at least for evening dress.

Iced Cocoa

A pleasing beverage for the warmer weather. Mix six tablespoons water in one-half cup boiling water until smooth. Place in a saucepan, add one-half cup boiling water, stir and cook until thick. Add two-thirds cup sugar and cook for five minutes. Now add four cups milk and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Strain through a fine sieve, cool, add one teaspoon vanilla and pour into glasses filled with finely chopped ice.

Place an Irish potato inside the wild duck when it is put in to roast and it will take away that fishy odor.

Betrothal Announcements

YOUR interesting column has helped me so often in minor problems but now I have a perplexing one on my mind. My case is quite unusual. I have been living with my future husband's family since my mother died (two years ago). Although my father is living, certain difficulties have arisen which prevent me from having him present, or even mentioning his name. In this case you should send the announcements, and what would be the correct wording?

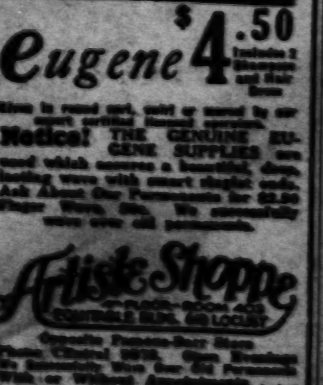

1. Would it be more proper to leave from my sister's home than his mother's? READER. In the most unusual circumstance that you set forth—and I am sorry, dear girl, that you have this problem to struggle with in these days that should be full of sunshine for you—I strongly advise you to send the announcements in the names of you and your fiancé. This will be the most dignified thing to do. This is the best form:

Miss Vera Rose Kennedy and Mr. Robert Burkhart announce their marriage on Wednesday, the fifteenth of June.

Nineteen hundred and thirty in Chicago, Illinois. If you prefer you may use, for the fourth line, the words, "have the honor of announcing their marriage," but most people making their own announcements prefer the simpler form.

If you have been living with his mother, it would be better to leave from her home. Any other procedure would look forced, and, to your friends and theirs, inexplicable.

THE BABY ON A VACATION

By Emilie Hoffman

THE safest place for the baby during the summer is at home, but if he must be included in the vacation party his comfort and needs should receive first consideration.

It is always a risk to make any change in the diet during the summer, but you have probably made sure that your baby will get pure milk and water where you are going and that his customary daily regimen will not be disturbed. If he will be able to drink the milk and, of course, you will better to the drinking water. If the house into which you are going is not screened you had better provide cotton netting for the crib. If your baby cannot have these safety precautions you will do better to sacrifice your vacation this summer.

Give special care to your baby's needs in traveling. If you are nursing him this will simplify his feeding, for his food is always ready, and be sure to observe your regular feeding schedule during the trip. If the trip is not too long dry milk may be used for the bottle-fed baby, and a small solid alcohol burner will be found useful for heating the water.

If it is a hot day baby's face and hands frequently during the trip. If you are traveling by automobile, water can be carried in a thermos bottle. Do not allow any one to give your young child candy or cookies during the journey and do not tire and over-excite him by undue handling. Keep him quiet if you do not want to arrive at your destination with a cross or, perhaps, a sick baby.

Wherever you go see that nothing

Girlish Figure

Famous diet authority says Welch's pure juice of Grapes is the only food which should be eaten every day for reducing or weight-control diet. Keeps your body energized, nourished, regulated. Absolutely non-fatening! The more you drink, the better you look and feel.

interferes with the regularity of your baby's diet, sleep, bath, etc. Of course you will protect him from insects, and if you have accustomed him to daily sun baths at home continue these, but during the trip weather give them before 11 a. m. or after 3 p. m.

Do not make your baby public property. If you allow others to hold him, fondle him and play with him indiscriminately you will have a troublesome baby on your hands when you return home. But, aside from this, babies feel the heat intensely and the nervous system of the young child is so delicate that any undue excitement or changes in his mode of living may be the starting point of a serious illness.

So if your baby must go on a vacation allow no indiscretions that will upset the regular quiet routine to which he is accustomed. The intestinal disturbances which every mother tries to avert and that are so fatal during hot weather, are not always caused by incorrect diet; but the intelligent mother will exercise extreme care in the diet of her baby and under no consideration will she allow the introduction of new foods during the vacation.

HEALTH

Brief articles prepared by experts for the New York Academy of Medicine.
Edited by Dr. Jago Goldstein.

Ears That Hear Not

THE business of life is largely transacted by the "living voice." The deaf or deafened person, therefore, is at a grievous disadvantage.

The full significance of impaired hearing has dawned upon us lately when new and more refined instruments for the measuring of hearing acuity have been developed.

We now know in a more exact manner than heretofore that there are varying degrees of deafness; that some can hear the lower registers but not the higher, some the middle and not the extreme, and some only the higher.

By means of these instruments, known as audiometers, we can also register and record the progression of the hearing impairment; to note the progress, so to say, of the advance of the disease or the cure. And all of this has resulted in a better appreciation of the problem and a keener endeavor to combat the plague of deafness, partial or complete.

In the series of 100,000 medical records of adult, native-born, white males made available by the research division of the Milbank Memorial Fund, impaired hearing—that is, inability to hear conversational tones at more than 10 feet distance—was found in a little less than 5 per cent of those 30 years of age.

The prevalence of this defect was fairly low up to 40, but thereafter it mounted rapidly so that by the time the 70-year-old age group is reached the prevalence of impaired hearing amounted to approximately 45 per cent of those examined.

Partial deafness is a condition that develops slowly. The loss of hearing literally creeps on the victim unaware, and ordinarily he seeks medical help only when the condition has advanced far enough to be plainly noticeable to himself and his friends.

Too often little can then be done to re-establish normal hearing. To safeguard against this, it is recommended that in the annual health examination of every person there should be included a careful and thorough examination of the ears and hearing acuity.

For Bumps and Bruises

DURING vacation days bumps and bruises are frequent. The normal child will not fuss over an ordinary bump, but if the injury is severe it should not be neglected.

If there is much swelling but the skin is not broken, the swelling should be reduced and treated to prevent discoloration and for this purpose cold applications are the best. Wring clothes out of cold water and apply to the affected part for half an hour, changing the cloths frequently. Then apply witch hazel or any soothing lotion on a gauze pad.

If skin is broken, gently remove all dirt by washing, then dry carefully and paint with mercuric chrome or tincture of iodine (half strength) and cover with a piece of clean gauze held in place by strips of adhesive plaster.

My Greatest Movie Thrill

By MONTE BLUE

WE were on location, up in the Feather River Canyon, for some realistic scenes of "The Greyhound Limited," when I experienced my greatest thrill in front of a motion picture camera!

In this particular scene I had to climb the 60-foot trestle of a railroad bridge above the Feather River. It had been raining and it was cold. The rain, as it struck the iron trestle work, had turned to ice, coating the entire structure. The going was difficult and the ice coating added the factor of danger to the climb.

Half way up, I began to wonder if I would be able to make it. I reached that if I failed, we would have to come back the following day and do the whole thing over. So I decided to keep on. Away down below I could hear the director shouting encouragement. I hung on grimly and finally reached the level of the tracks.

The rails and the ties were even more slippery than the trestle had been. A train whistled, and as I looked around to see how near it was, I lost my balance and slipped between the ties, my feet dangling above the icy river far below, and only the grip of one hand on an icy bar between me and a cold bath.

I want to say that I got the thrill of my life, right then. In a few seconds I had regained my safety, and crawled out of danger before the train came by. But that thrill, like Mr. Bertine's melody, lingers on.

THE FACE THAT HARMONIZES

By Frances Olivier.

ACES that are smart as well as lovely harmonize with the time, the place and the costume—and, of course, the girl—thanks to the infinite variety of make-up shades and tints and tones in the beauty market today.

Your chic summer girl, for instance, will wear for summer sports a facial ensemble something like this: Peachy tan powder and a warm natural shade of lipstick; or golden tan powder; and a dash of vivid rouge with lipstick to match. But no eye makeup, of course. There's something a bit ridiculous about a mermaid with heavily mascaraed eyes, don't you think?

For afternoons, a warm Rachel shade of powder with a delicate flush of light-toned rouge and matching lipstick makes a most appropriate and pleasing facial picture. Another good scheme is light peach-toned powder, no rouge, and lipstick in a rich, natural red.

When evening comes, that skin in loveliest which approaches pearly whiteness. The best pearly-white effects are achieved through the use of a delicate mauve or green powder—an idea which is not novel but very successful, as a rule. Use such subtle shades of powder one may range or one may not, according to whether the type is ingenuous or sophisticated. But it is usually best to be rather generous with a vivid tone of lipstick, under artificial light—whatever one's type of beauty.

As to summer make-up in general. It seems to me that heavy exotic schemes should be steered clear of and that the preference should be given to cool effects. Faces too generously rouged or lipstick—especially in daytime—are not precisely refreshing sights. Fairer, a faint glow of the skin and a meek accenting of the lips help to compose a more cooling vision and one far better suited to summer frocks and summer scenes.

Of course, there is always the old hot weather problem of making make-up stick. One of the most satisfactory solutions to the problem is the use of cooling astringent lotions. These help to eliminate excess oiliness, tighten the pores and leave a good foundation for make-up.

Should you care to manufacture your own astringent lotion, the following recipe is simple and the finished product quite good: Mix together parts water and one part witch hazel, and if you are interested in getting a specially good effect, let the water be distilled.

Must Have Care

If you are in the habit of using a dish mop, don't forget to wash it in fresh hot boiling water and soda after the dishes are finished, as it absorbs the grease and will quickly become sour. Wash it in hot soda solution if very greasy and rinse in boiling water. Then hang out in the air to dry.

If you want to be arrested in a courteous manner, use the campaign slogan of a Washington State Constable.

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner.

An Old Boat

THEY certainly had had a very thrilling time swinging from the swing attached to the plane. But now they knew that the Little Black Clock had turned off for a trip and of the beautiful boat upon which they had traveled.

Then they saw the man go to a nearby river and stand upon an old tree that had fallen into the river. It was a very large and substantial tree but the man moved it along, as he stood on it by means of a pole.

"You're seeing the first kind of a boat," said the Little Black Clock. The children thought of the time they had seen some friends off for a trip and of the beautiful boat upon which they had traveled.

WALL STREET STOCK TRADE SLUMPS, BUT PRICES HOLD FAIRLY STEADY

Merchandising and Specialty Shares Gain on Signs of Improvement in Retail and Wholesale Business.

MANY ISSUES ARE WELL SUPPORTED

Come Coppers and Good-year Touch New Lows—Commodity Markets Quiet, Corn Closing Firm

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Speculative interest in the stock market dwindled today, as the three-day week-end closing drew near at hand, but the bull forces managed to hold the list fairly steady.

Closing quotations were irregular, with most of the pivotal shares steady, and several of the merchandising and specialty issues showing gains of 2 to 4 points. Delaware & Hudson was an exception to the narrow movement, selling up six points. Total sales were only about 440,000 shares, a sharp drop from yesterday's 2,200,000 share turnover.

The merchandise issues were bought forward in response to reports of signs of improvement in retail and wholesale trade. Furthermore, several specialties, in which pools have been marking time for weeks, were stirred up, apparently in an effort to attract attention in preparation for market operations after Labor day.

Coppers at New Lows.

The market sold off substantially a time during the morning, the several coppers reaching new lows. Throughout the day bears endeavored to uncover weak spots, but met with success in spots. The mine list began to sag again just before the close, but a little demonstration in U. S. Steel induced considerable short covering in the metal transactions. U. S. Steel sold about a point, then lost its gain, closing steady.

Sears-Roebuck gained 4 points and shares gaining about 2 included Spiegel, May Stern, May Department Stores, Mack Truck, Cutler Hammer, McKesson-Triplate, Childs and Mathieson Alkali. General Electric closed up a point.

International Telephone dropped more than a point in a new low under 40, then rallied to close steady. Goodyear dropped nearly 5 to the lowest in two years, but closed off 2. Houston Oil also lost about 2, then rallied 2 from the bottom. Atlantic Coast Line sold off 2 to the lowest price since 1924. Shares ending a point or so lower included Republic Steel, Eastman, Liggett & Myers, R. United Aircraft, Wyss, Briggs and Anaconda.

Wheat Steady, Corn Firm.

Commodities were quiet and moved narrowly. Wheat closed steady, 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 of a cent above yesterday's final price. Corn was firm, ending the day 1/4 to 1/4 cent higher. Cotton was inactive to ease much of the day, but price was not heavy. Foreign exchanges were mainly firm, sterling rising to $4.87. Brazilian coffee again reached new low point, however.

Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ended Aug. 27 were announced by the Federal Reserve Board today at $1,020,000,000, representing a decrease of $26,000,000 as compared with the preceding week.

Analysis of the report shows loans for own account increased $8,000,000, while loans for account of out-of-town banks fell $13,000,000 and loans for account of others decreased $35,000,000.

Business and trade news was meager, but the more cheerful vein was maintained. Many traders were inclined to accept the slight improvement indicated with conservatism. One broker described the market's response earlier in the week to that of "a starving man's reaction to a moult biscuit in a dark steak."

Money continued plentiful, with all loans abundantly offered at 2 per cent. Some bankers felt that the holiday currency requirements would prevent any appreciable firmness in call money.

Stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on pages 9C, 10C and 11C.
